New York City Matters

[By Telegraph to the Pittsburgh Gazette.]

NEW YORK, July 3.—John E. Risley, Deputy Commissioner of Internal Revenue, to whom was referred the charge of defrauding the Government by C. C. Gardner, Assessor of the Twenty-seventh District of this State, against John J. Necks, State Senator from the same District, has rendered his decision exonerating Mr. Necks.

The Union Republican General Committee met at the corner of Twenty-Second and Broadway last evening, and passed resolutions protesting against the contemplative action of Congress to impose a tax of ten per cent. on U. S. Bonds.

The testimony in the case of Moses vs. Polhamus & Jackson, the alleged perjury case, which has been before the Supreme Court since Monday last, was closed yesterday afternoon. The case will be argued and submitted to the Court this morning.

The case of the United States against Jos. F. Talsen, in which the defendant is charged with having perjured himself in giving testimony in a patent right case, was before United States Commissioner Osborne. The prisoner was recently arrested in Chicago, and was committed yesterday to await the action of the Grand Jury.

About two o'clock yesterday afternoon, Thomas F. Carry, attache of the banking house of Mr. Archibald Grace King, No. 54 Williams street, for the purpose of receiving $43,000 in coupon bonds, of the issue of 1868, one of the Treasury clerks passed out the bonds, and while they were lying on the counter, Mr. Carry and the gentleman behind the desk entered into conversation, during which some daring thief came up unnoticed, and seizing the money succeeded in making his escape with it.

Arrived, steamer Columbia, from Havana, on the 2d. Collided with the schooner T. S. Grier, hence for the Delaware, sinking her in three minutes. All hands were saved.

A meeting of the Board of Managers of the American Bible Society was held at the Bible House yesterday. Five new auxiliaries were recognized, of which two are of Michigan and one each of Indiana, Iowa and Alabama.

About half-past two this afternoon a man named John M. Mulhern, who was at work on Seventy-Ninth street, about twenty-five hundred feet from the shooting ground of the Schutzenfest, and directly in the line of the targets, was instantly killed by a stray ball, which passed over both protections and struck him in the stomach. It is not known by whom the shot was fired.

The steamer Denwarn, from Liverpool arrived to-day.

THE DEMOCRATIC CONVENTION.

Delegates Nearly All Arrived—Pendleton Keeps the Inside Track—Chances of Chase Improving—Excitement Running High Between the Belmont and Pendleton Wings on the Financial Question.

[By Telegraph to the Pittsburgh Gazette.]

NEW YORK, July 3.—The Chronicle's special says: The delegates to the National Convention have nearly all arrived, as well as thousands of outsiders, who come either to see the struggle or to assist in pressing the claims of one of the many candidates for the Presidency. Before the arrival of the Southern and Western delegates the chances of Chase and Hendricks were improving rapidly, while Hancock was not losing ground. Yesterday, however, two thousand of Pendleton's friends appeared and his stock rapidly advanced. Until last evening everything indicated that his nomination on the first or second ballot was certain. Up to a very late hour last night informal caucusses were being held of the different delegations, and the result was very gratifying to the Pendleton men.

A careful canvass of the situation this afternoon gives Pendleton the inside track, with accessions to his ranks every hour from Southern delegations. Mr. Chase will come in second best. Mr. Seymour's friends are working energetically in his behalf, and this morning they were claiming nearly all the delegates from the South who have not expressed themselves for Pendleton. That he will go into the Convention with a very strong vote is apparent, and should there be any wavering by the Pendleton faction, by a strong and bold movement Chase's nomination will be effected.

August Belmont met other strong capitalists. They held a private meeting last evening and determined to press the importance on his friends of having Hancock withdraw from the contest for President, but enter the ring for Vice President. Chase's friends assert confidently that if this compromise can be made, that it will insure the nomination of Chase and Hancock. It seems to be conceded that Hendricks has withdrawn from the contest altogether, as his name does not find mention among the candidates.

To Geo. H. Pendleton, and to him above all others, must the South look for future deliverance from Radical rule. The most bitter men from the South are beginning to express themselves openly for Pendleton. Excitement is running very high, and the contest is likely to become warm and exciting between the Belmont and Pendleton wings over the financial part of the platform, and there are many who believe that a rupture will occur in the Convention. The Convention will meet to-morrow at 12 o'clock, and after perfecting an organization will adjourn over till Monday.

In a speech to the New York delegation last night, Mr. Seymour formally declined being a candidate for the Presidency. He urged unity of purpose and the choice of the very best and strongest man.

Judge Chase, in a letter to the National Executive Committee, promises to concede anything except his manhood suffrage ideas. So he cannot get many votes in the Convention.

The World insists that the platform must not say that this is a white man's Government, and is now leaning towards Chase. Some of the more radical Democrats want to have the World read out of the party.

Wall street is busy to-day getting ready for the Fourth and the Convention together. Wall street prefers Chase.

It is now claimed that Pendleton will get nearly three hundred votes on the first formal ballot. This would indicate that his nomination was inevitable.

A number of State delegations to the Democratic Convention held meetings to-day.

The Connecticut delegation chose W. W. Eaton, Chairman. Nine of the delegation are for English and three for Pendleton.

The Ohio delegation elected the following gentlemen as representatives in the Convention: On Committee on Credentials, Wayne Griswold; on Rules, W. J. Gilmore; Vice President, Edson B. Olds; member of National Committee, Jno. G. Thompson.

The Illinois delegation chose Wm. A. Richardson Chairman and selected W. J. Allen to serve on the Committee on Rules, Mr. L. Morrison on Committee on Permanent Organization, Thomas Hayaon on Credentials, D. M. Woodson, Vice President, W. J. Dowdel, Secretary, and Wilbur F. Storey on National Executive Committee.

The Kansas delegation held a meeting, Gen. C. W. Blair in the Chair, and appointed representatives on Committees.

The Arkansas delegation selected A. H. Garland Chairman and made the following recommendations: for Vice President, R. D. Turner, for Committee on Platform, A. H. Garland, on Credentials, E. C. Bondmot, on Permanent Organization, J. S. Dunham, Secretary, John W. Wright.

The South Carolina delegation held an informal meeting but postponed action till all the members were here.

The Maryland delegation selected R. B. Carmichael, Chairman, O. H. Orsey, Secretary, E. Fred Maddox, on Committee on Credentials, A. K. Silvester, on Organization, and Stevenson Archer, on Resolutions.

The New York delegation transacted no business to-day, except the substitution of S. S. Cox for Michael Morton as delegate from the 4th District.

The Tennessee delegation are all here and will vote for Andrew Johnson, but will accept a man the Northern States think the most of.

The Delaware delegation favor Pendleton, except Senator Bayard, who is for Hancock.

The New Jersey delegation will vote for Ex-Governor Joel Parker.

The Missouri delegation chose James Broadhead, chairman, and A. J. Reed Secretary, and selected Thomas L. Pierce for Vice President, and S. L. Sawyer on Committee on Credentials.

The Pennsylvania delegation organized by the choice of Hon. W. Bigler, Chairman. An informal vote stood thirty-five for Ex-Governor Packer, to ten for Pendleton and seven for Hancock. The delegation will vote as a unit for Packer on the first ballot.

It is understood all but two of the Indiana delegation are really for Hendricks.

Important Whisky Suit Decided.

[By Telegraph to the Pittsburgh Gazette.]

SPRINGFIELD, ILLS., July 3.—An important suit was decided in the United States District Court this morning, by Judge Treat, involving the question of liability to $80,000 taxes. The District Attorney brought suit against Howlett, Brother & Bunn, of this city, to recover $80,000 taxes and penalty due on transportation on a consignment of whisky to Doyle, Miller & Co., of Cincinnati. Defendants claim that the whisky was burned at the time of its arrival, on or about the 27th of December last. The case was taken under advisement by the Court yesterday, and this morning was decided in favor of the defendants.

GENERAL AMNESTY.

President Johnson's Proclamation.

WASHINGTON, July 3, 1868.

By the President of the United States: A Proclamation.

WHEREAS, In the month of July, Anno Domino, 1861, in accepting the condition of the civil war which was brought about by insurrection and rebellion in several of the States which constituted the United States, the two houses of Congress did solemnly declare that the war was not waged on the part of the Government in any spirit of oppression, nor for any purpose of conquest or subjugation, nor for any purpose of overthrowing or interfering with the rights or established institutions of the States, but only to defend and maintain the supremacy of the Constitution of the United States and to preserve the Union with all the dignity, equality and rights of the several States unimpaired, and that as soon as those objects should be accomplished the war on the part of the Government should cease;

And whereas, the President of the United States has heretofore, in the spirit of that declaration, and with the view of securing for it ultimate and complete effect, set forth several proclamations offering amnesty and pardon to persons who had been or were concerned in the aforenamed rebellion which proclamations, however, were attended with prudential reservations and exceptions, then deemed necessary and proper, and which proclamations were respectively issued on the 28th day of December, 1863, on the 26th day of March, 1864, on the 29th day of May, 1865, on the 7th day of September, 1867;

And whereas, the said lamentable civil war has long since altogether ceased, with an acknowledgment by all the States of the Federal Constitution and of the government thereunder, and there no longer exits any reasonable ground to apprehend a renewal of the said civil war, or any foreign interference, or any unlawful resistance by any portion of the people of any of the States to the Constitution and laws of the United States;

And whereas, it is desirable to reduce the standing army and to bring to a speedy termination the military occupation, martial law, military tribunals, abridgment of the freedom of speech and of the press, suspension of the privilege of habeas corpus, and of the right of trial by jury, which encroachments upon our free institutions in time of peace being dangerous to public liberty, incompatible with the individual rights of the citizen, contrary to the genius and spirit of our Republican form of government and exhaustive on the national resources;

And whereas, it is believed that amnesty and pardon will tend to secure a complete and universal establishment and prevalence of municipal law and order in conformity with the Constitution of the United States, and to remove all appearances and presumptions of a retaliatory or vindictive policy on the part of the Government, attended by unnessary disqualifications, pains, penalties, confiscations and disfranchisements, and on the contrary to promote and procure complete fraternal reconciliation among the whole people, with due submission to the Constitution and laws,

Now, therefore, be it known, that I Andrew Johnson, President of the United States, do, by virtue of the Constitution, and in the name of the people of the United States, hereby proclaim and declare unconditionally and without reservation, and to all and to every person who directly or indirectly participated in the late insurrection or rebellion, excepting such person or persons as may be under presentment or indictment in any Court of the United States having competent jurisdiction, upon a charge of treason or other felony, a full pardon and amnesty for the offense of treason against the United States, or of adhering to their enemies during the late civil war, with restoration of all rights of property, except as to slaves, and except also as to any property of which any person may have been legally divested under the laws of the United States.

In testimony whereof I have signed these presents with my hand and have caused the seal of the United States to be hereunto affixed.

Done at the City of Washington, the 4th day of July, in the year of our Lord one thousand eight hundred and sixty-eight, and of the independence of the United States of America the 93d.

[Signed] ANDREW JOHNSON,

By the President:

WM. H. SEWARD, Sec'y. of State.

NORTH CAROLINA

Proceedings of the General Assembly.

(By Telegraph to the Pittsburgh Gazette.)

RALEIGH, July 3.—In the Senate to-day Judge Osborne, elected from Muhlenburg, presented credentials, which were referred to the Committee on Investigation.

The President ruled that the General Assembly having adopted the Howard amendment, it had the force of law in the State, though not yet part of the Constitution of the United States. Hence he would not admit persons who were not bound by it.

Mr. Robbins, Senator from Rowan, offered a resolution, in substance, that North Carolina declares that the fundamental condition in the omnibus bill, providing for the re-admission of the State, &c., shall be held forever without legal force, and that the declaration is made not to obstruct the settlement of the union, but to avoid the consequence of a silent acquiescence or approval of a doctrine fraught with danger to the rights of all the States and of constitutional governments.

The certificates of members in the House who have not had their disabilities removed were referred to the appropriate committee.

Two negro doorkeepers were elected in the House and one in the Senate. Gov. Holden will deliver his inaugural to-morrow.

The North Missouri Railroad.

[By Telegraph to the Pittsburgh Gazette.]

ST. LOUIS, July 3.—The purchasers of the North Missouri Railroad to-day paid into the State Treasury the required consideration, and gave bonds, approved by the Governor, to the amount of six hundred and fifty thousand dollars, for the completion of the main road to the Iowa line, the West Branch to Kansas City, and the construction of a bridge over the Missouri river at St. Charles. Among the bondsmen are some of the heaviest capitalists in St. Louis and New York, and it is now certain both branches of the road will be finished by next fall.

[By Telegraph to the Pittsburgh Gazette.]

SAN FRANCISCO, July 3.—The steamer Japan from New York via Panama, arrived this morning.

Gen. Placido Vego, who recently made his escape from Colima while on parole, on his way to the city of Mexico under arrest, for alleged treasonable practices, arrived here yesterday. It is reported General Angel Martinez, leader of the late attempt at revolution in Sinaloa, and his chief officer, Col. Toledo, are in the city.

The steamer from Mazatlan, which arrived yesterday, brigh up a number of former Confederate States officers from Mexico, including David S. Terry, Ex-Judge of the Supreme Conrt of this State.

MAZATLAN, June 22.—It is believed the Legislature Sinaloa, now in session, will repeal the restriction on the exportation of bullion.

General Corona left Mazatlan with 3,000 men for Durango, where his forces will be increased to 12,000 and will march against the insurgents further east.

Intelligence from Lower California is discouraging. The Goverement absolutely refused to allow the shipment of silver bars from the country unless six per cent. duty was added to the charges heretofore paid on the exportation of bullion. The mining companies determined to cease work, thus throwing hundreds of people out of employment and virtually suspending all the business of the country.

Advices from Sonora state the Government troops surprised a village of Yokui Indians, killing several and capturing the others. Numerous robberies and outrages are mentioned. The country is in an unsettled condition.

The Bond Excitement—Extra Legislative Session—President's Family Summering—Suicide.

(By Telegraph to the Pittsburgh Gazette.)

NASHVILLE, July 3.—A communication in the Press and Times, the official organ, this morning, recommends an extra session of the Legislature to stop the issuance of new bonds and other efforts to raise funds except by ordinary taxation, to apply these funds to the State Government, and appropriate the receipts from railroads to common schools. The proposition is received with favor. Gov. Brownlow says a conspiracy exists in New York among stock jobbers and swindlers, and if the Legislature will take his advice they will withdraw the State patronage from that city.

Mrs. President Johnson and Mrs. Stover and family have arrived at Greenville to spend the summer.

A young man named Crenshaw blew his brains out yesterday at Athens.

Inauguration of the Governor Elect.

[By Telegraph to the Pittsburgh Gazette.]

MEMPHIS, July 3.—The Avalanche's Little Rock special says the inauguration of Powell Clayton, Governor elect of Arkansas, took place yesterday about ten o'clock. A procession was formed, made up of military, civil and State officials, members of the Legislature, and a few citizens. No negroes participated, except legislators, which caused some dissatisfaction among the negroes. After a parade of two hours the oath was administered at the Capital. The Governor, in his address, said that a large number of citizens were not disposed to accept the results of the war, and idle hours were spent in invectives against new voters. But the Government, erected at so much expense, should be sustained. The new Constitution, he said, was an admirable one. The ceremonies closed with a salute of fifteen guns.

THE TAX BILL AS REPORTED TO THE SENATE.

The House Whisky, Tobacco and Banking bill was to-day reported from the Senate Committee on Finance with numerous amendments. The sections relating to banks and bankers are stricken out. No changes are proposed in the taxes on whisky and tobacco. The time for taking spirits from bonded warehouses is extended from six to twelve months. The House provision for the exportation of alcohol is stricken out and a new section substituted requiring the drawback at the time of shipment; after clearance the bond is to be retained until it is shown that the alcohol or rum has actually arrived at the place of destination, the certificate of the Consul being required for that purpose. The license taxes on wholesale dealers and retail dealers is stricken out, thus leaving in force the existing laws. Tobacco cannot be removed from the place of manufacture until taxes are paid. It is provided it shall be removed at once from the export warehouse to which it is first sent. According to the house bill tobacco may be sent from the manufactory to an export warehouse only to be exported, but the Senate amendment provides if the manufacturer does not choose to export he can withdraw for a home market. Another amendment changes the number of inspectors to twenty, and the Commissioner of Internal Revenue is to designate their territorial districts. The House bill provides for sixty Inspectors, or one for each Judicial districts. The Senate Committee provides for fifty special agents to be employed during the pleasure of the Commissioner of Internal Revenue.

Washington Topics and Gossip.

Senator Hendricks says he has written no letter declining to be a candidate for the Presidency.

The new tax bill will be the special order for Monday in the Senate, and will be considered until it is a law.

To-day the President will issue a proclamation of general amnesty, including all classes excepted in the proclamation of August last. The amnesty will not affect Jeff. Davis and other ex-rebels now under indictment before the Courts, but will embrace a long line of generals and high officials in the rebel army, officers of the rebel navy, civil officers of the Confederate Government, active participants in the rebellion of former rank in the army and navy of the United States, and members of the United States Congress previous to the war.

The bill taxing the interest on United States bonds will be passed.

Secretary Seward says that he has one hundred votes for the Alaska Appropriation bill.

Chief Justice Chase says he will support the nominee of the New York Convention.

The bill creating new Government Military Schools will have the effect of making the West Point Academy a sort of University.

Senator Conkling's bill for a recess in place of adjournment meets with much favor among the Republicans, and will probably be passed. A bill has been framed for the relief of officers and soldiers who enlisted during the late war, but were not mustered in on account of capture or other good cause.

Messrs. Phillips and Cox, Commissioners to appraise the Cherokee lands sold to a Connecticut company, have returned after completing their work, and will very shortly submit their report. They estimate that some two thousand tracts on this reservation have been entered upon by settlers, comprising the best watered and wooded sections. The remaining lands are, however, of excellent quality.

The Senate devoted the afternoon to the consideration of the bills relating to the District of Columbia. The House finished with the Senate amendments to the Civil Appropriation bill.

General Butler's report on the Impeachment Investigation was presented and ordered to be printed. It contains little which has not already been made public, is of the same general style with the preliminary report in Wooley's case, and is highly characteristic of its author. It leaves the subject of the corruption of Senators precisely where it now stands.

BRIEF NEWS ITEMS.

—The locusts are doing mischief in Southern New Jersey.

—The Governor of New Hampshire has vetoed the bill repealing the usury law.

—Albert Alexander, who killed his mistress, Phillis Proctor, at Philadelphia, last winter, has been convicted of murder.

—A smash up occurred at the Simpson county (Ky.) Agricultural Fair, on Thursday. The entire amphitheater fell to the ground, injuring several workmen very severely, and causing damage to the extent of $6,000.

—A special from Aberdeen, Miss., says on Tuesday night Herbert, Republican candidate for State Senate, was murderously assaulted by freedmen who voted the Democratic ticket. The negro's life was saved by some citizens. During the affair Herbert shot and dangerously wounded a white boy.

—It is stated the opinion of Judge Thompson, declaring the Pennsylvania registry law unconstitutional, is opposed by Judges Read and Agnew, and when the case is reviewed by the Court in Banc Judge Thompson's position may be found untenable. The bill is crude, without doubt, and some of its provisions are improperly expressed, but the right of the Legislature to make such laws will be ultimately sustained.

Steamboat Collision.

NEW LONDON, CONN., July 3.—The steamer City of Boston, from New York, last night was run into by the steamer State of New York, of the Hartford line, off the mouth of the Connecticut river, producing serious damage to the first named boat, and injuring quite a number of passengers, and it is feared involving the loss of three lives. The City of Boston was struck amidships, carrying away the wheel-house and upper works in that vicinity, and demolishing five state rooms. A dense fog prevailed. The City of Boston was relieved by the steamer City of New London, which took off the passengers and baggage. The City of Boston was left, partly on her side, anchored. She will probably be towed in at once.

The names of the injured by the collision in the Sound, as far as known here, are as follows: Wm B. Hazleton, agent for Sanford's line of steamers, contusion over the left eye, right arm slightly injured and internally seriously; J. W. Edgerly, Brooklyn, scalded internally, not seriously; Mrs. N. B. Walker, Jersey City, severe cut in foot; Henry B. Tracy, Norwich, Connecticut, right hand scalded. A few other passengers were slightly injured.

Frightful Accident—Two Men Fall From a Church Steeple—Both Killed.

Thursday morning, near noon, a frightful accident occurred at the new Catholic Church, St. Malachi's, now in the course of construction at the top of the hill on Washington street, West side. The walls of the structure are complete, and about seventy feet of the steeple have been constructed. The carpenters were yesterday preparing to raise the beams that are to support the roof in position, and for that purpose had erected a small derrick at the top of the steeple. This derrick was supported by strong guy ropes, and was to all appearances secure in every respect. The derrick at the summit of the steeple was erected for the purpose of hoisting the heavy timbers of a large derrick in position in the center of the church. These timbers were from seventy to eighty feet in length, and the lower end of one of them rested on a pile of timber. A strong line had been lowered from the small derrick and the work of raising the heavy stick commenced. The upper end had got nearly to the top of the steeple while the lower portion was being guided by a party of workmen down an incline plain to the ground, by the aid of bars. By some means the great stick slipped from the plank forming the plain and dropped about four feet to the ground. The jar and spring at the upper end caused one of the guy ropes of the derrick on the steeple to give way and almost the same instant the feet of the derrick spread apart, forcing out a portion of the walls of the steeple, and fell to the ground, bringing with it two men named Enos Lafler and Dirk Henzink.

Henzink fell headforemost and died almost instantly. His skull was completely broken up, and he scarcely moved after striking the ground. Lafler died during the afternoon, after being conveyed to his home near the engine house on Huntington street. His leg, arm and ribs were broken in addition to sustaining frightful internal injuries.

Both men were carpenters, the latter having the contract to do the carpenter work of the church, and was assisting Henzink and overseeing the work of raising the derrick when the accident occurred. The latter went to work on the building that morning for the first time, and was engaged in stowing away the slack of the line when the guy broke. He was a married man, and leaves a family at No. 53 Lidden street.

About five feet of the brick wall of the steeple and a window was torn out by the accident. The timber of the large derrick in falling lodged against the side of the steeple and was shivered into slivers by the force of the concussion. The wonder is more persons were not injured by the falling bricks and timbers, as several men were at work at the base of the steeple at the time of the accident.—Cleveland Leader.

Fearful Accident—Man Killed.

Yesterday morning, at an early hour, as the down freight train on the Western Maryland Railroad was approaching the bridge undergoing repairs at Rockland, about two miles from the Relay House (where the above road forms a junction with the N. C. R. R.), the repairers failed to stop or "flag" the train, in consequence of which the engine and four cars ran into the "falls," a distance of fifty-five or sixty feet, and the engineer, Thomas Spurrier, was shockingly scalded and bruised; and, of course, almost instantly killed. Spurrier has a family, consisting of a wife and nine children, who reside at Union Bridge, the western (present) terminus of the road. The fireman and conductor of the train—whose names we were unable to learn—escaped with painful, but not serious injuries. The engine was a heavy "Baldwin," and is described to have turned "over and over" in the frightful descent. The carpenters had completely loosened or "unscrewed" one portion of the sleepers, and their neglect to warn the approaching train resulted in the above terrible accident. So we learn from a gentleman residing on the line of the W. M. R. R.—Harrisburg Telegraph.

THE N. Y. Evening Post, of the 29th says: There is a rumor of a new combination in favor of Reverdy Johnson, of Maryland. His friends, intend, it is said, to spring his name upon the Convention while the members are still unable to agree upon a candidate; and they hope to carry him through by an impetuous rush.

Horatio Seymour is still talked of as a candidate, and his friends make a pretence of asserting his claims. But it is very well known among his intimates that he will not accept a nomination, and that he intends, for a year or two, to retire somewhat from the excitement of public life. Those, therefore, who urge his claims do so, probably, with the intention to carry over to some other candidate, at a critical moment, the votes they can collect for Seymour.

THE naturalization treaty which Mr. Bancroft has concluded with the Governments of Prussia and Bavaria does not satisfy those Prussians who live or have lived in the United States. The German press of the United States are almost unanimous in disapproving some of its provisions. In Germany several pamphlets have been published against it, and we now learn from Wurzburg that several Americans have issued a protest against it.—N. Y. Tribune.

JULY THE FOURTH has latterly been an anniversary of ill omen to the Democracy. On that day, in 1863, at Gettysburg and Vicksburg, they suffered disastrous overthrows; and, from present appearances, we opine next Saturday will result in fatal dissensions. It will be a happy coincidence if the anniversary of the birthday of Independence should also be the deathday of Disunion.

MR. PENDLETON said in Congress, in 1862: "You send these notes out in the world stamped with irredeemability. You put on them the mark of Cain, and, like Cain, they will go forth to be vagabonds and fugitives on the earth." And now he wants to pay off the debt with these "vagabonds." Certainly it is a vagabond proposition.

THE President's action in removing Gen. McDowell from command in the Mississippi and assigning General Gillam to duty in his place, grows out of McDowell's course in reference to State officers. He recently removed the Governor and Attorney General, and this proceeding gave great offense to Mr. Johnson.

THE Jackson, Miss., Index has returns from nine counties in Mississippi, which indicate a Republican majority in the State of from 15,000 to 20,000. The Index says that the dispatches sent North, giving the Democracy the victory, are entirely false.

The Pittsburgh Gazette.

MY BAIRNS.

Written by the Father of a Family.

Mind, I make no boast of it, but I suppose that I am a happy man, from the fact of being the possessor of a large number of very keenly-pointed young arrows—barbed, no doubt; but the barbs have never yet torn flesh; winged, too, doubtless they are, and in all good time they will take, I suppose, their flight; but though they are very expensive, and the quiverfull weighs heavy on my back, I hope that the day of flight-winging is far distant. I want a governess for them; a quiet, staid, encyclopœdia of reference, who will undertake to do what my wife and I give up as almost an impossibility—namely, the answering of all questions, and the giving of satisfactory replies to the various problems propounded by a series of philosophers, male and female of years of ripeness varying from two to ten.

Like Mrs. Pipchin, I grow doubtful, timid, suspicious, and almost afraid ef the holders of certain little minds of most opinionative tendencies; such, for instance, as one who comes running to me in the hall while I am divesting myself of hat ahd overcoat, to overwhelm me with a piece of information which has been in my possession some six hours, namely, that there is a new baby; and when I have expressed a proper amount of snrprise, I am posed with the question, "Where did it come from?"

"Because, pa, Mary says the doctor brought it, and nurse says it came from under the big rose tree in the garden; and one must be wrong."

"God sent it, my dear; but little girls shouldn't ask such questions—What's that? What do you say?"

"I don't think God did send it; because if He had, He would not have sent it when my mamma was too ill to nurse it."

However, it appears that maid Mary's version is considered to be correct, and the doctor is watched with curious eyes from around corners at his next arrival; while from the direction of glances towards his pockets, I feel morally certain that were that overcoat taken off and hung upon a peg in the hall, it would be searched for babies, as surely as mine often undergoes the same process for oranges and buns. Mary's version is canvassed, too, largely; and another small sage thinks how nice it would be to go and live at the doctor's since there would be no further need for dolls, which get chipped, bleed sawdust, and lose their eyes; and there would be such lots of babies to play with.

We have had our little ones duly christened, and we have them instructed in the matters set forth to be learned in the vulgar tongue; but they will not be content with learning and repeating their lessons, religious and secular; they will think, preparatory to propounding some of the posers already alluded to. One young female, aged five, takes a walk with her mother upon a hot day in summer, and after proceeding some distance, begins to halt. Mamma perceives that something is wrong, so stoops, unfastens the strap of a little shoe, empties out some dust and sharp grains of stone, replaces the shoe, buttons the strap, and onward trips the little fairy again, but not smilingly; she is serious and deep in thought for a few minutes, and mamma nerves herself for what she foresees is coming.

"Didn't you say, ma, that I was made of the dust of the earth?"

"Yes, my dear."

"Then, if I was,"—doubt implied—"If I was, do you think I ever got into anybody's shoe?"

Little Tom comes in with flaming cheeks, red as if reflections from the fire he had watched still lingered in the pleasant dimpled spots, to patter along the passage, and hammer at the door of the workshop where I spend my reading and writing hours,—a region tabooed to all; edicts published daily that no one is to go near papa's study under pain of terrible inflictions, but the edicts are always forgotten in times of excitement, as in this case; and Tom hammers away with his hoop-stick, and his voice sounds like that of a young rook, as he energetically, at twenty-second intervals, shouts out, "Pa!"

As he will not go away, he is admitted, boiling over with the information that he has seen a man making a "great, large—ever—so big horse."

"But men don't make horses, my boy," I say, as I perch the little form upon my knee, and the little legs begin to swing vigorously about. "Don't put your hoop-stick in the ink!"

"But they do, pa, toz I saw one while I was out, and Mary stopped and let me; and he'd got a hammer and nails, and one leg in his lap, and I saw him keep on knocking till he'd finished and put it down, and the horse walked away; and will you buy me a big horse—one ever so big, pa?"

Then again, "Totty should always put her hands behind her when she is saying lessons," says mamma, and the little, sticky, wet fingers go behind the small back.

"Now, Totty," mamma goes on to say, "who was the first man?"

"Adam," says Totty.

"Very good girl," says mamma; "and now, who was the first woman?"

"Mrs. Adam!" says Totty, after a minute's reflection; but mamma does not seem satisfied with the new reading, and Totty is set right upon the point. It was this young lady who, after another year's instruction in Scriptural knowledge, was one day questioned concerning the history of Joseph, and replied, that it was the chief butler of King Pharaoh who was in prison with Jacob's younger son.

"And now," said the querist, "who was the other man in prison with Joseph and the chief butler?"

It was evident that Totty did not know; for one shoulder forced itself out of containing straps, and then the other. Totty looked at the floor and ceiling for information, but found it not, and the question was repeated:

"Now, Totty, I told you just now. Who was in prison with Joseph and the chief butler?"

Totty did not know, but she could invent; she would not give up; and her little face gleamed with triumph, as directly after the question was propounded for the last time, "Who was in prison with Joseph and the chief butler?" she exclaimed!

"The chief footman!"

I'm sorry to say that Bobby is not honest. He it was who helped himself to as many pespods as he could clutch when passing the green-grocer's and was bearing them off, only Mary perceived it in time, and insisted upon his taking them back, when the green-grocer was foolish enough to laugh, and present the boy with an apple of red hue, which kept slipping out of the fingers not large enough to hold it. Bobby it is who makes the baby cry by taking away his cakes and his biscuits, to devour the wet, sucked, soppy morsels himself. I have my forebodings about Bobby, and though it was, no doubt, intensely funny to wet them and stick them on nose, chin, cheeks, and forehead, yet those postage stamps all had to be gummed again before I could use them; and I felt morally certain that Bob was the thief who stole the little boxfull from my study table, although he sturdily denied it, and vowed that it was Totty, who wept, and declared her innocence. He was caught in the act, Bobby was, when he had been upon a chair at the cupboard, wolfing the moist sugar, and stood confessed before his mother, with the brown crystals embellishing his cheeks

"Ah! Bobby, Bobby, you sad boy," exclaimed mamma, what have you been doing?"

"Nussing!" quoth Bob sturdily.

"You naughty—naughty boy," said mamma; "why, what did you do with the sugar basin?"

"Took a poon out," said Bobby, gruffly.

"I know you did, sir," said mamma, angrily; "but what else did you do, eh, sir?"

There was a pause of a few moments, and then mamma repeated her question—"What else did you do with the spoon, Bobby?"

"Put him back again," said Bobby.

I am sorry to have to record that Bobby was not punished for that saccharine theft, for mamma turned away and laughed, while when reprimanded for her unmaternal behavior, and reminded of the boy in the hornbook, who afterwards bit off his mother's ear because she had not corrected him for the theft, she, is to say, Bobby's mother, not the thief's, declared that the story was "all stuff," and that the boy—Bobby—looked so silly and comical she could not help it. That is how boys are spoiled; and the longer I live, the more I feel convineed that mothers should never have a hand in their education.

We have had so many little fresh green queries—so much salad of a piquant flavor—that one has thrust the other from memory. One mite wants to know why it is that doll's hair never wants cutting; another stands like a little astronomer, with widely propping legs, gazing up into the blue vault of heaven and when asked at what he is looking, says he, "tis wonderful how God could get up there." Again, another toddles into our country, red-bricked kitchen, whose floor is as great a source of pleasure to our red-faced kitchen girl as the brilliantly-blacked stove over whose lustrous face so many pounds of plumbago are expended per annum, while the red-brick floor is carefully washed before breakfast every morning, and swept and sprinkled every afternoon;—in toddles one of the small philosophers, to stare at the spotted floor for some time, stoop down and touch one of the wet patches with a finger, ere the moisture is absorbed by the soft brick, and then the bystanders are with all due solemnity informed, that the little piece of importance thinks that "Sarah's titchen yains."

One last little incident, but sad: and this time, too, no shaft of mine, but of a brother fletcher, whose little arrow here displayed the barb, and made its wound in displaying something of the selfish element of the human heart.

A little sister lay a dying, and after due preparation, and being told—wisely or not—that one was about to be taken away, the little boy was carried into the chamber to say farewell to the fading blossom, and gaze upon her with curious eyes. Then he said loudly:

"Is Milly going away?"

"Yes, darling; but hush! don't speak so loud."

"Is she going up to heaven?"

"Yes—yes; but don't speak like that."

"And will she never come back any more?" This time in a whisper.

"No, darling, never—never. You must say good-bye."

"Ah Milly, Milly," cried the boy loudly—leaping forward to get to the bedside—"tell me where you hid my spade before you go!"—Once a Week.

Our First Play.

There is little in boyish experiences so indelibly put in our memory as the impressions from seeing our first play. We know how genially the essayist Elia has depicted all those fresh sensations. Many an autobiographer has dwelt lovingly on the recital. Had we a diary of Shakespeare, we might read of his flushed exultation in his first play at Kenilworth. Scott recounts with delight the story of his earliest acquaintance with the scene. Southey tells us how rapturously he doubted the fictitiousness of the action. Leigh Hunt looks back upon it, and exclaims, "Then I was not critical, and could enjoy." The elder Matthews tells of the glorious two shillings' worth of stealthy disobedience of that first night. Hans Anderson, just from the delineation of Lear, fashions in his joy some little puppets; and, dressing them in costume, reproduces the mimic scene; while, as he cuts and sews their dresses, his mother, good soul! having destined him to a tailor's stool, rejoices at his precocious snipping! The theatre of Ludwigsburg opened to the rapturous Schiller, a boy of nine, a vision of his future glory. In the memoirs of Iffland and Kotzebue, of Henderson, of Frederic Reynolds and George Frederic Cooke, we have the same tale of heated joy and determinate future.—Atlantic Monthly for July.

English Praise of American Diplomatists.

The nomination of Mr. Reverdy Johnson as Minister to England has called out from the London Telegraph a highly landatory article on the character and ability of American diplomats abroad. It admits that "Democracy, after all, has formed the best diplomatists," and on the other hand, that no serious man would pretend that the diplomatic representatives of England are remarkable for intellectual ability. Its admissions are justified by reference to the names of Irving, Bancroft, Motley and Hawthorne, to which it might have added those of three generations of Adamses, of Franklin, Jay, Everett, Rives, Clay, Gallatin, Cass, Marsh and Bigelow, and of a score of other American diplomats of a high order of ability, who, as the Telegraph remarks, "have worthily upheld in society the credit of their country, * * and have taught Europe to recognise in the best type of the American gentleman a combination of English earnestness with continental ease, made special, so to speak, by a sort of affectionate alacrity and almost feminine gentleness."

Gov. MERRILL, of Iowa, has pardoned Catharine McArdle, who was sent from Jackson county four years ago to the State Penitentiary for life. She confessed to the murder of her husband, and was sentenced to be hanged, but her sentence was commuted by Gov. Stone. It was afterwards found that she was entirely innocent of the crime, and that her son was the guilty person. To save him from the gallows, she claimed to be the murderess.

We are reliably informed that every one of the insectile nuisance of the grasshopper hosts has upon one side of it an exact picture of a human face. It is not discernable to the naked eye, but when looked at through a microscope is brought out in clear and bold view. The picture is supposed to be that of the visage of Brigham Young, for it seems that he can make an impression upon grasshoppers as well as women.—Des Moines Register.

A GRAND Temperance Convention will be held in Cleveland, Ohio, on Wednesday, July 29th, the object being to compare views, discuss fundamental principles, and secure, as far as practicable, concert of action among the friends of total abstinence.

On the premises is a pump of lasting and excellent water, and the surface of the lots is level and needs neither filling nor grading to prepare them for building purposes, and being in a section of the city where property is increasing very rapidly in value, make them desirable for an investment, especially as the present houses rent for enough to pay a good interest on the sum asked for the whole property. Call soon on the undersigned and secure a cheap, safe and paying investment.

The West Newton Accommodation and other trains on the railroad afford certain and frequent opportunities of daily communication to and from the city. RIVER NEWS.

The river remains about stationary at this point with scant eighteen inches in the channel, by the Monongahela metal marks. As we remarked in our last report, it is claimed that there are several more inches in the channel then the marks show. The weather yesterday was the hottest of the season, the thermometer at the Suspension Bridge indicating 99 in the shade and 106½ in the sun.

There has been no arrivals or departures since our last report, nor is it at all likely that there will be until there is a rise. Business, therefore, is completely suspended at the wharf.

The J. N. McCullough arrived at Cincinnati on Wednesday, and is now laid up at that place. She will receive a new coat of paint, and be put in condition for the fall and winter business.

The Wild Duck and Barges passed Louisville on Wednesday for Pittsburgh.

—We clip the following river items from the Cincinnati Commercial, of Thursday: The Silver Cloud departs for St. Louis today in charge of Capt. Andy Robinson, late of the office of the St. Charles.....Captain John B. Davis, of the Memphis and White River Packet Company, is still here prospecting. We hope he will find a packet suitable for his trade.....The G. A. Thompson seems to be an ill-fated steamer, so far as law is concerned. On Tuesday, she was knocked down to Capt. B. F. Davidson, by the Sheriff. Yesterday the United States Marshal attached and towed her to the bone-yard indicating another sale. The fees and legal expenses will eat up the Thompson. Capt. Muhleman telegraphs that the Potomac will remain at Wheeling until there is more water. The Eureka Dry Dock Company, and the Marine Railway and Dry Dock Company, of Cincinnati, have consolidated. The competition between these rival intstitutions caused work to be done at ruinous rates, but now that they have consolidated an advance in the rates of dockage may be anticipated. .....We regret to learn that Capt. W. A. Gregg, of the Champion, is ill with a severe attack of cholera morbus.

—The Sam Gaty, on her way hence to Omaha, on Monday night, struck a snag, which caused the boat to careen and lamps to upset, which set the boat on fire, and she burned to the water's edge, becoming a total loss with cargo. She was owned by Captains Ben. Johnson and Fred Dozier, and doubtless insured. The Evening Star came close to the burned wreck at two o'clock next morning, but no assistance was required. The scene of the disaster was directly opposite Arrow Rock. The Sam Gaty was built in 1860 at Louisville, Kentucky, by Captain John H. Baldwin, and cost about $30,000. C. W. Blount was her first commander. On her first trip she exploded below Louisville. She acquired considerable renown in the Missouri as being an immense carrier on little water.

—The Louisville papers of Thursday, have the following items: The Charmer, from Pittsburgh to St. Louis, received about 50 tons of freight here yesterday, consisting of iron pipe, boiler iron, and crockery. She also got a lot of furniture. .....Capt. I. R. Whittaker, who passed down in the office of the Charmer yesterday, will on his return, proceed to Pittsburgh and take command of the R. C. Gray. He proposes to run her below the falls during the low-water season.

—A St. Louis special to the Cincinnati Gazette says: It is said some negroes in this city threaten to mob Sam. Ray, Porter of the Great Republic, for not testifying that he saw Capt. Donaldson shoot Henry Anderson. This is hardly probable, however. Still the negro element here is intensely interested in the matter, and, are determined to do all they can to secure the conviction of Donalson, whose guilt they consider a foregone conclusion. The trial of Donaldson will commence the first of August.

—The St. Louis Democrat, of Tuesday, contained the following: A week ago the ladies of Nauvoo, Ill., presented Capt. Sencerbox, of the white collar line, with a silver pitcher and a goblet, valued at something over $50, as a token of—we don't know what. Probably they consider him unusually good looking.

—The steamer Benton, from Fort Benton, arrived at Leavenworth on Tuesday, bringing a cargo of furs valued at $75,000. On her passage down a soldier named Smith jumped overboard and was drowned.

THE DAY WE CELEBRATE.

Wherever there beats an American heart, wherever the old flag is known and recognized, there will be rejoicing on this, our proudest National Anniversary. Ninety-two years ago to-day, merrily rang out the joyful tidings that America had given birth to a Republic; that crushing Oppression and vigorous Tyranny had been set at defiance and Liberty and Independence declared. The early struggle of our country for recognition and place amongst the nationalities of the earth, the long years of wasting war against a proud and powerful foe, the disastrous defeats, the repulses, the wrongs, the ruins, the sacrifices, the sad scenes of suffering, privation and sorrow, the patriotism, the prayerful hope, the bravery, fidelity, earnestness, and then the bright beaming victory which brilliantly burst upon the undaunted Continental Army, led by a WASHINGTON, need not be here recounted to the reader for they all are known and will sweeten the enjoyment of the anniversary held to commemorate the daring deed which forever secured to us the inestimable blessings we now enjoy.

Since then the historian has been kept busy in recording the great events crowded into the four score years and twelve which have elapsed. Out of the germ of weak and dependent colonies there has rapidly grown into existence a nation wonderful in power, mighty in numbers, filling the eyes of the civilized world with admiration. As she has steadily advanced rearing up cities and towns, spreading and extending her boundaries, em-peopling the continent, making millions on millions of acres fruitful, and leading the enlightened world in the march of Intellect, yet she has not lost sight of her humble beginning or the gallant band of heroes who watched at her birth and baptized her with their blood. To-day in all her grandeur and beauty, her power and greatness, her unity and prosperity, she bids her toiling millions rest and pay homage at the shrine of the signers of the Declaration of Independence, and the heroes and martyrs who sustained the act.

Let the excitement of business, the heat of politics, the cares and anxieties of every day life be forgotten to-day and all join in the celebration and observance of the festival of Liberty and Independence.

THE DEMOCRATIC CONVENTION.

If the Southern rebels and the Western repudiationists can accomplish the object for which they are evidently allied, Mr. PENDLETON will be the nominee of the Convention which meets at New York to-day. But another combination of Democrats from all sections of the country, who are Conservatives in finance, but progressive in their political opinions, prefers Mr. CHASE for the candidacy, and will secure the choice for him if possible. The Convention will be divided between Democracy and pure Copperheadism, and the two men named are respectively the representatives of these elements. They are unquestionably the really prominent candidates; not one of the score of others who have been named has any chance whatever except by way of a compromise. But it is becoming evident that such a compromise must be made, both in the nominee and the platform. Beyond this, further conjectures seem to us idle. The best informed Democrats are themselves unable to forecast the events of the next three days. As to both principles and men, they are all at sea; and they will not find it easy to reach the land.

THE President's Amnesty Proclamation appears in another column. Its terms include substantially all the rebels, except those heretofore expressly pardoned and the few, including DAVIS and others, who are at present under indictment in the Courts. As these will never be convicted, they might as well be included in the amnesty. We shall never quarrel with Mr. JOHNSON about this proclamation, although we can have no respect for his real motives.

IT is mentioned as probable that Judge SHELLABARGER, the distinguished Republican member from the Seventh Ohio Congressional District, may be re-nominated. His improving health seems to justify this wish of his constituents, and may thus result in retaining one of the most influential members of the House.

THE Georgia Democracy polled 15,000 colored votes at the recent election, securing thereby the Second Congressional District, and the "Democratic victory" to that extent is heralded by all the Northern journals of the party. But they don't let their readers know how it was brought about.

CHASE AND DEMOCRATIC LANDMARKS.

The New York World of the 2d, reminding its party "of the old Democratic landmarks," insists upon the two-thirds rule, as "a safe-guard against rash innovations, and the premature adoption of reforms to which the party has not been fully educated." That there may be no misapprehension of its meaning, the World, saying that "there may be candidates whose nomination would inevitably commit the party to a novel policy" specifies, still more pointedly, as follows:

"The nomination of Mr. Pendleton, for example, no matter upon what platform, would cut the party loose from its old moorings as a hard-money party, which is too great an innovation to be made by a bare majority of the delegates attending one National Convention. The nomination of Judge Chase, to take another example, would commit the party to an indorsement of negro suffrage, which again would be too violent an innovation to be accomplished by a bare majority. By a dexterous choice of phraseology it is always easy enough to draw up a platform to which nobody in the party will object, but the public record of a candidate is a thing which cannot be obscured."

The World proceeds to remind Democrats that their party is identified with the hard-money system, and recommends the Convention to declare for a speedy return to specie payments. It might have added that its friend, Mr. CHASE, was an original hard-money advocate.

But that influential journal goes yet farther into the pith of the present issues. Mr. CHASE has made a point concerning the rights of the States over the suffrage question. HORATIO SEYMOUR, the World's file-leader, came out unequivocally for Mr. CHASE, on Thursday afternoon, in a meeting of the New York delegation, the World of the same morning having concluded its article from which we quote, as follows:

We trust there will be no such nonsense in the platform as that this is exclusively a white man's government, for this was never at any time a Democratic doctrine. The Democratic doctrine is that this is a government of the people, and that it is the right of each State to determine who are the people qualified for political functions therein. When a State has freely decided this question, it is the duty of the Federal Government, and all of the other States, to respect its decision. It is all one to them whether any particular State allows its negroes to vote or not. It is none of their business; and our political woes have all come from the States and the Federal Govment not minding their own business. Here in New York, we allow negroes to vote on a property qualification. In our circumstances this is a sound rule; but whether sound or not, we should regard it as a piece of impertinence for the National Convention to tell us that we ought to change it. The same exemption from outside intermeddling which we claim for ourselves we are bound to concede to every other State. The Southern States, at present, find themselves in a new and anomalous condition, and negro suffrage being a present fact, each must determine for itself what, all circumstances considered, it is best to do about it. The National Convention has no call to dictate, nor even to advise, their course.

We print these expressions of the World, as having peculiar significance at this time, and we desire, therefore, to put them on record, where our readers can find them, for future reference.

THE LAST DEMOCRATIC NATIONAL CONVENTION in 1864 adopted, among others, the following resolution:

Resolved, That this Convention does explicitly declare, as the sense of the American people, that after four years of failure to restore the Union by the experiment of war, during which, under the pretense of a military necessity of a war power higher than the Constitution, the Constitution itself has been disregarded in every part, and public liberty and private right alike trodden down, and the material prosperity of the country essentially impaired, justice, humanity, liberty and the public welfare demand that immediate efforts be made for a cessation of hostilities, with a view to an ultimate Convention of all the States, or other peaceable means to the end that at the earliest practicable moment peace may be restored on the basis of the Federal Union of the States.

Immediate efforts, under the direction of General GRANT, produced the desired cessation of hostilities in less than twelve months after. But the efforts which the Democracy called for were of a more pacific nature. They wanted a truce, a compromise, and a surrender of that principle which regarded the Union as inviolable. They will not re-adopt the same resolution in words, at New York, but their platform and candidate will be selected with an exclusive view to making that restoration of the Union, which the war accomplished, a failure if possible. And FORREST, WADE HAMPTON and all the other red-handed rebels are in attendance to contribute to that result. Let us see if they accomplish it!

AMONG so many Democratic journals which have gone blind crazy on the greenback question it is pleasant to find occasionally a rare exception. Here is a little sound finance from that eminent exponent of Democracy, the Albany Argus. It is very rough upon the PENDLETON humbug. The Argus remarks:

The "Greenback theory" has never been explained so as to tell us what time is to be devoted to its operation. If the five-twenties are to be paid off at once, the issue of twelve hundred million greenbacks would raise gold to 500 per cent. at least, and the interest on the remaining debt would have to be paid at that rate. If the process of inflation were extended over ten years, as some propose, the cost of meeting the interest on the unextinguished debt would be even greater; though we leave the problem to arithmeticians to calculate.

ON a line of railroad owned by the Lehigh Coal and Navigation Company, is a plane at the north slope of the Wilkesbarre Mountain, with an inclination of fourteen feet to one hundred feet. For dragging the loaded cars up the slope, a wire rope, said to be the largest heaviest, and longest ever made, has just been completed. The load drawn up at each trip is eighty five tons; length of rope, three thousand seven hundred feet; diameter over two-and-a-half inches, and weight, twenty tons.

OUR neighbor of the Republic yesterday talked very confidently, as follows:

THE BEST NEWS YET.—Private advices, just received from New York, inform us there is not a shadow of a doubt but that Andrew Johnson and Gen. Geo. W. Cass will be the nominees of the Fourth of July Convention. A vote of ninety-eight is pledged to Andrew Johnson on the first ballot and is to be increased to a majority on the third ballot. The rebel element is completely in the back ground and will scarcely be heard in the Convention. There is a strong disposition to try Hancock for the Vice Presidency, but General Cass is gaining ground every hour, and is admitted to be the best man that could be put on the ticket to ensure success.

THE DORR CASE—THE RIGHTS OF CONGRESS.

The following extract from the opinion of the Supreme Court, as delivered by Chief Justice TANEY, in the DORR case, may be useful information to those who are looking for the intervention of the Supreme Court to set aside the reconstructed State Governments:

"Under this article of the Constitution it rests with Congress to decide what government is the established one in a State. For as the United States guarantee to each State a republican government, Congress must necessarily decide what government is established in the State before it can determine whether it is established or not. And when the Senators and Representatives of a State are admitted to the councils of the Union, the authority of the government under which they are appointed, as well as its republican character, is recognized by the proper constitutional authority. And its decision is binding upon every other department of the Government, and could not be questioned in a judicial tribunal."

THE G. A. R. IN OHIO.

The address of Gen. KEIFER, the head of this patriotic organization before the recent Convention at Toledo, closed with the following exhortation:

"In conclusion, my comrades, permit me to exhort you to labor together assiduously to carry forward the great work we have undertaken As you stood together on the field of mortal combat and rolled back the enemies of liberty and justice, nerved by the same undaunted spirit that insured victory then, let us still stand, and success will attend us and justice will be done to our living and deceased comrades and their families."

RELIGIOUS INTELLIGENCE.

The Convention of Delegates from the various Young Men's Christian Associations, just held at Detroit, Michigan, took action upon matters that will elicit considerable comment in favor and against its course. We do not propose to discuss the propriety of this action, but simply refer to one important matter, lay preaching. Conservative ministers will be startled at the bold step, and innovation upon clerical rights, heretofore rigidly asserted by them—the right to direct all things pertaining to the polity and worship of the Church. This action is decidedly radical, and is, however, in keeping with the progressive religious movements of the day. Granting that lay preaching, or lay coöperation, with the regular ministry, is demanded and an absolute necessity, still it is well that all who assume functions of this character should not only be competent to teach, but possess grace and gifts duly acknowledged by some responsible ecclesiastical authority before they exercise the office of teacher. We favor the use of every available means to build up the Church of God and lead persons to Christ, provided they are under the direction of denominational authority. Wherever too much license is given in such grave matters, there is always a class of persons who assume to teach and preach that should be seen, not heard, in public assemblies, as every attendant at union religious meetings, where the voluntary system of speaking and praying is the rule, are aware. We repeat, let every man, woman and child in the Churches coöperate with the pulpit, as there is plenty of work to engage all willing to be employed, but let everything be done "decently and in order," and in a way, too, that will not provoke the least feeling between the duly called of God to preach the Gospel. Proper persons, duly appointed by ecclesiastical authority, and the proper officers of the Young Men's Christian Association of this city, will find many inviting fields of labor hereabouts already ripe for the harvest. No Christian man or woman need stand idle in the market place for want of work, as the need of workers is apparent everywhere.

Among the prominent speakers, at the late Southern Baptist Convention, at Baltimore, was Dr. Mauly, of South Carolina, who, in speaking of the colored people, said that the South does not recognize the social equality of the negro. All the rights they have by law, they have no desire to interfere with, but they cannot entrust to them the management of the interests of the country, for this simple reason: God and man know the negro is not competent. As no one ventured a word of caveat, the Doctor's utterances were obviously the convictions of the Convention. It is easy to see, says the Western Christian Advocate, that if certain men in the South had their own way all the colored people to-day would be wearing the manacles of slavery.

During the late session of the General Association of the Congregational Churches of Massachusetts, at Lowell, considerable discussion took place in regard to short pastorates. Dr. John Todd, of Pittsfield, stated that at his residence in Berkshire county, he had seen the pastorate change five times. The principal, or shiretown of the county, was living by hiring preachers from year to year. This discussion, as well as the numerous cases that occur, goes to show that the "permanent pastorate" in the different denominations has its afflictions as well as the itinerancy of the Methodist Episcopal Church.

Reference has already been made to the purpose of the First Presbyterian Church to introduce the system of free seats. Sabbath week the system was inaugurated. In the sermon delivered on the occasion, the pastor stated the object was not to make a poor man's church or a rich man's. The plan adopted puts all on a level. He further stated that it is not the purpose that those who come should sit wherever it may happen. Every regular attendant is expected to select a pew—any unoccupied one—and occupy it as long as they choose. In regard to giving he remarked—"give as you choose—as the Lord has prospered you—and sit where you like."

A station has been named on the Pacific railroad, twenty-seven miles beyond Laramie, six hundred beyond Omaha, "Simpson," in honor of Bishop Simpson. Zion's Herald says it is a tip-top compliment to a tip-top Bishop, on a tip-top place.

The corner stone of the new house of worship for the Presbyterian Church of Leetsdale, near Sewickly, was laid on the 23d ult. A history of the church was read by the pastor, Rev. James M. Platt. An address was delivered by Rev. James Allison, of the Presbyterian Banner, and prayer was offered by Dr. Aaron Williams. The corner stone was laid by the venerable Mrs. Shields, whose gifts to this enterprise are worthy of praise.

At the meeting of the Old School Presbytery of Blairsville, recently held in Johnstown, Pa., Rev. Daniel Kirkpatrick, D. D., father of John M. Kirkpatrick, Esq., of this city, on account of feeble health, tendered his resignation as pastor of the Church of Poke Run, which with great regret was accepted.

From an appeal "To Presbyterians," by Rev. Mr. Coe, Secretary of the Church Extension Board, we learn that last year fifty thousand dollars aided in the erection of one hundred and twenty-two houses of worship; and, at the present time, the Board has on file applications from over one hundred churches for seventy thousand dollars. These applications are, in most cases, for aid in erecting humble sanctuaries, costing from two to three thousand dollars. In a little over thirteen years the Board has received nearly five hundred and thirty-eight thousand dollars, and made grants to eight hundred and fifty churches. These grants have enabled these congregations to secure, free from debt, church properties worth over two million five hundred thousand dollars, and have furnished comfortable shelters for one hundred and fifty thousand worshippers. With the grants already made and applications for help, the Board need over sixty thousand dollars, and hence the appeal.

The new editor of the Western Christian Advocate, Rev. S. M. Merrill, received the degree of D. D. from three institutions last month, namely: Mount Union College, Ohio Wesleyan University and Ohio Universtty, all located in the State of Ohio. The assistant editor of that paper, Rev. E. House, thinks his case will not need further doctoring.

The late Methodist General Conference at Chicago provided that Sunday School teachers shall be nominated by the Superintendent, with the concurrence of the pastor, on their entering the school, and elected by the society one month subsequently.

LETTER FROM WANDERER.

Luzerne County—Its Population—The Anthracite Coal Trade—George W. Scranton and his Enterprise—Coal Transportation Facilities—Present Condition of the Trade—The Luzerne and Schuylkill Systems—Scranton and Wilkesbarre.

[Special Correspondence of the Pittsburgh Gazette.]

SCRANTON, June 30, 1868.

Luzerne, in territory, ranks as the largest county in Pennsylvania; in population as the fourth—Philadelphia, Allegheny and Lancaster taking precedence and in the order in which they are here written. In conversing with people of this county it is common to hear the claim made that Luzerne has more inhabitants than Lancaster; but this claim is not sustained by the returns of recent elections. In 1867 Lancaster cast an aggregate of 20,274 votes; Luzerne 18,389. In 1866 Lancaster cast 23,094 votes; Luzerne 21,120. In 1864 Lancaster cast 22,917 votes; Luzerne 17,690. When these statistics are recapitulated the answer is that Lancaster being an old and mainly agricultural county has relatively fewer unnaturalized male inhabitants than Luzerne, where the chief occupations are mining coal and making iron. But it is a sufficient replication to state Luzerne has a reputation, well earned, of letting all men vote the democratic ticket who wish to, whether legally qualified or not.

The Susquehanna river enters Luzerne from the north, and flows on to Pittston in a southeasterly direction, where it turns to the southwest, which course it holds through Columbia county, and until it meets the West Branch in Northumberland. The Lackawanna creek enters Luzerne from Wayne at its northeast corner, and running in a southwesterly direction falls into the Susquehanna just north of Pittston. These are the principal streams and the territory they drain in this county, contains the anthracite coal fields, which are the chief source of employment and wealth. The only natural outlet from these fields is the Susquehanna, and it has never been used for the transportation of coal.

Forty years ago a ton of coal was taken hence by wagon to New York, where attempts were made in vain to induce blacksmiths to use it for heating iron. Not discomfited by this failure, the Delaware and Hudson Canal Company was chartered, and the canal actually made from Rondout, on the Hudson, to Honesdale, on the Lackawaxen. But the main body of coal was not where the projectors of this enterprise thought it was, and it became necessary to construct a railway from Honesdale, across the Moosic Mountains, to Carbondale, a distance of sixteen miles, which was the first piece of road on which a locomotive was operated on this Continent. This line of railway and canal constituted the only means of getting coal to market from Luzerne for many years. Commencing with ten thousand tons a year, the amount transported over it has increased to a million and a half of tons; and the capital of the company has been enlarged until it now amounts to twenty millions of dollars. Carbondale, Archbald and other towns of considerable size were created by this company.

Twenty-five years ago, at the point where the Roaring Brook falls into the Lackawanna, sixteen miles below Carbondale, was a little hamlet, known as Slocum Hollow. Here a Mr. Slocum had, some years before, erected a small furnace. This furnace passed, by purchase, into the hands of Mr. George W. Scranton, a person of singular intelligence and energy, and of the strictest probity. Under his management it rapidly expanded into a mill of large capacity. But this did not satisfy his longing for enterprise. He projected the Delaware and Lackawanna Railroad, to start at Slocum Hollow, about that time re-named Scranton, cross the Pokono Mountains, reach the Delaware at the mouth of Brodhead's Creek, a short distance below Stroudsburg, and thence down the Delaware to Easton. This road was built through his personal exertions, and being of broad gauge, a third rail was laid on the New Jersey Central, so as to reach Newark Bay at Elizabeth. Afterwards, he projected and carried through a western extension of the line, across a difficult mountain range, intersecting the Erie Railway at Great Bend, in Susquehanna county. Hence, the name of the road was changed to Delaware, Lackawanna and Western. Over this road nearly two millions of tons of coal a year have been sent out of the valley to market.

The completion of the North Branch Canal, from Pittston down to Harrisburg, opened a new outlet, and this canal was subsequently extended from Pittston, northwesterly, to the line of New York, there connecting with the canal system of that State.

Ten years or so ago, the Lackawanna Valley was also tapped by the Pennsylvania Coal Company, whose railroad extends from Hawley, in Wayne county, to Pittston, on the Susquehanna. This Company sends a million and a half tons of coal to New York yearly.

Then came the Lackawanna and Bloomsburg Railroad, running from Scranton, past Pittston, Wilkesbarre and Bloomsburg, to Northumberland, there connecting with the combined Northern Central and Philadelphia and Erie Roads.

Last year the Lehigh Valley Railroad Company opened its road from Easton up to Mauch Chunk, and thence over the Moosic range to Wilkesbarre. This Company, furthermore, ran a branch from Wilkesbarre up to Scranton, there connecting with the railroad of the Delaware and Hudson Canal Company. The coal trade of this line is not yet fully developed.

Simultaneously with this latter enterprise, Mr. ASA PACKER and his associates, who were directing it, acquired a controlling interest in the North Branch Canal Company. The towing path was removed to what had been the berme bank, and a railroad laid upon the old towing path, by what is designated as the New York and Pennsylvania Coal Company. This road extends from or near Wilkesbarre through Tusskhannock and Towanda, intersecting the Erie Railway at Waverley. It will be completed this season, and the Delaware and Hudson Canal Company have made a contract for shipping large quantities of coal over it to Western New York, designing to reach Chicago, by water, from Dunkirk.

Over these various channels of communication, at a moderate estimate, six millions of tons of anthracite will be transported this year. The capacity of the lines is much greater than this, but the Companies are not inclined to press business, for the plain reason that coal is so low as to yield no profit at all, the dividends declared being paid entirely out of the accumulations of former years.

The present condition of the anthracite trade naturally resulted from the unprecedented profits realized during the war. The ratio of gains being larger than in other branches of business, a rush was created to participate therein. New roads were constructed, and additional openings made in the mines. The result is an over stock in the markets, and a deduction in price below the cost of production. Coal operators had their harvest; now the community is reaping a proper indemnity. This principle of compensation is always exemplified as one of the results of Protection to Domestic Industry. If manufacturers, in any department, succeed in getting discriminating impost duties raised to a high point, so that immoderate profits result, competition is stimulated, the market is superabundantly supplied, and a fall in prices follows. Sometimes manufacturers, in such an emergency, seek to inflate prices by adding to the impost; but this, if it has any effect, must be to aggravate the thing of which they complain. Herein may be seen the difference between Protection as a National Policy, and Protection as an expedient for Individual Advantage.

This exhaustion of coal fields to no profit, leads to some comparisons between what may be called the Luzerne system and the Schuylkill system. In Luzerne, the coal is mainly owned by the companies which send it to market. In part, it is mined on their own lands; in part, bought of individual operators. As the companies adjust the tariffs of transportation to suit themselves, the individual owners are at their mercy. The Companies like the lion's share of the profits, leaving only lean pickings to private operators. Few of the net profits of the trade come back into the county to increase the amount of accumulated capital. The Schuylkill system differs from this, in that the Companies are simply common carriers, and the gains and losses of the trade fall on the individual owners. The result is manifest in the much larger local incomes returned for federal taxation where the Schuylkill system prevails than where that of Luzerne obtains. It should be remarked, however, that in a portion of Luzerne the Schuylkill system is in vogue. The depletion of the coal fields without adding proportionately to the wealth of Pennsylvania, is certainly an evil, and has led to the imposition of a tonnage tax on the New York Companies operating in Luzerne. This tax is but a poor equivalent for the loss the State suffers.

But there is another aspect of this case. Under the Schuylkill system, when coal falls to a low price, some individual operators fail, and others contract largely. None of them go on regularly at a loss, drawing on previous gains to cover deficiencies. Consequently, many miners are thrown out of employment, and general trade is deranged. Under the Luzerne system the companies go steadily onward, drawing upon surplusses providently laid aside to make up current deficits. The miners are regularly employed, and no stagnation of general business is experienced. It may be that a motive of policy actuates the Luzerne companies in this particular. The more the Schuylkill owners are damaged in bad years, the less will be their readiness and ability to take advantage of the recurrence of a good year. If this consideration did not enter into the calculation it would be perfectly feasible for the Luzerne companies to adjust, by agreement, the supply of coal to the demand, and thus ensure at least fair profits on all they sell.

Scranton has now twenty-five thousand inhabitants, but it has the disadvantage of occupying a territory sufficient for the accommodation of half a million. It has some streets of peculiar excellence; wears an air of thrift and bustle: but does not seem desirable as a place of residence. At one time it gave promise of surpassing Wilkesbarre; but, latterly, Wilkesbarre has received a fresh impulse, which bids fair to enable it to distance its rival. Besides, Wilkesbarre is grandly situated on a plane bordering upon the Susquehanna, and looks out upon the valley of Wyoming, just above, on the opposite side of the river. This valley, though not what Campbell described it, is decidedly fine, and well cultivated, while agriculture all through the valley of the Lackawanna is less advanced than it was a quarter of a century ago. Besides, Wilkesbarre is built upon a better plan than Scranton, and wears an aspect of ease, refinement and social enjoyment.

The term of Mr. Shoemaker, (Republican) as Senator from this county, has expired, and his successor will be chosen in October. It will be remembered that he defeated a son of Mr. G. W. Woodward, and that his election, being a Republican, was exceptional. The Democrats now talk of bringing out for the Senatorship Mr. George Sanderson, a banker, of this city. Twenty odd years ago he served three years in the Senate, going from Bradford county.

WANDERER.

Who the Democratic Delegates Are.

Judging from the character of the delegates who have arrived in New York, the Democratic Convention will almost amount to a re-union of the "old Confederate army." A larger number of them will there convene together than at any time since the final surrender in 1865.

In addition there will be a tremendous attendance of Canadian refugees, bounty jumpers, "circlers," Camp Douglas conspirators, genuine "Copperheads," and old time "Locofocos." Brick Pomeroy, Dirty Shirt Dean, "Bowles, Milligan and Horsey," Vallandigham, the Woods, and "Petroleum V. Nasby," with the entire Kentucky delegation will "make the welkin ring" for the "Union as it was." including the nigger and a Southern President.

All shades of the "Latter-day Democracy" will be "on hand" and if they cannot nominate Jeff. Davis, Forrest, Surratt, or J. Wilkes Booth, they may put up with a bad "second choice," and hoist the name of a recreant Federal soldier or a "Peace Democrat." They won't touch Chase with a thousand foot pole. His ears would burn if he could hear the Kentucky Democracy on the subject.

These gentlemen, with a substratum consisting of the choice spirits who composed the New York mobs, will combine as perfectly all the elements which served to make up the strength and virulence and very life of the rebellion, as did the rebellion itself. And yet they desire to take possessiou of the government itself, in the name of "loyalty," law, order and peace. To what base uses have those noble words been prostituted. To be sure, among the delegates from this State will be found a few fifth-rate ex-Federal soldiers, but not more than one or two at most who achieved any reputation worthy of mention.

The most of them "resigned early," never smelt powder, commanded "in the militia," or "fought bravely" in the Quarter or Paymaster's Departments. Some of them participated in the terrible skirmish of "Hardscramble Cross Roads," or "Git-up-and-get"-ville. But the most of them did not absolutely "put down the rebellion." The rebellion would, in all probability, have survived their attacks.—New York Letter,

A Warning to Counterfeiters, and a Caution to Purchasers.

No expense will be spared, no legal means of punishing fraud will be neglected, in the effort to prevent the counterfeitiug of HOSTETTER'S STOMACH BITTERS. But scoundrelism, when its cunning and activity are stimulated by the hope of gain, is very ingenious and industrious. The men whose despicable business it is to simulate valuable proprietary medicines, and who substitute therefor dangerous or worthless preparations, are proverbially difficult to catch. Most of them have many aliases, and they flit from State to State with surprising agility, in the hope of evading the clutches of the law. The proprietors of HOSTETTER'S STOMACH BITTERS are determined, if possible, to hunt them down. Traveling agents are employed for this purpose, and whenever an offender is detected he is prosecuted with the utmost rigor of the law. No amount of vigilance, however, can prevent the occasional introduction of imitations and counterfeits. The public are therefore CAUTIONED not to purchase any article purporting to be HOSTETTER'S STOMACH BITTERS which is not authenticated by the handsome government stamp specially engraved for the proprietors, and also by their superb new label with a beautiful vignette, representing the conflict between St. George and the Dragon, at the top, and a miniature note of hand, signed Hostetter & Smith, at the top.

N. B.—The genuine BITTERS are sold in BOTTLES ONLY. All persons who pretend to sell the article by the gallon or barrel, are imposters, and the stuff they offer is a worthless and probably poisonous counterfeit.

CURE OF FISTULA.

DR. KEYSER: I write to thank you for your kindness and scientific management of my disease, for which I called to consult you some time in January last. You will remember that I had a complication of diseases, which finally ended in a terrible fistula, which I had been advised to "let alone," on account of a harassing cough, which it was feared might fasten it on my lungs. I knew that the peculiar mode of treating diseases like mine was by a cutting operation, which, if successful at all, would naturally throw the disease upon the lungs or some other vital organ, on account of the suddenness of the cure and the immediate check to the discharge, which I believed was a salutary provision of nature to get rid of some morbid condition of the system. I feel perfectly satisfied that your method of treatment, purifying the system, and local applications to the fistulous part, must cure, if anything could, without cutting, which I find it did, and I am happy to report myself well in every particular, with sounder and better health than I have had for years. I would also add that the applications you made were almost painless, and have left me a new man, with all the energies and vigor of restored health.

Yours, gratefully, I—— C——.

FOURTH OF JULY CELEBRATION.

POLICE NOTICE.

The imminent danger to life and property attending the firing of guns and pistols, and the explosion of fire crackers and fire works in our public streets on the Fourth of July, and the sad accidents which have annually resulted from this injudicious mode of celebrating our National Holiday, have induced a large number of our most influential citizens, including property owners, underwriters, and others deeply interested in the safety of property within our city precincts, to address me on the subject, requesting that I should enforce the City Ordinances prohibiting it. This it is unquestionably my duty to do, and I now hereby give notice that I will give it my ESPECIAL attention. All offenders against the law will therefore be rigidly prosecuted, and the fines and penalties imposed, IN EVERY CASE, without regard to person.

Je27:s7 JAMES BLACKMORE, Mayor.

And the said sum of seven thousand nine hundred and six dollars and seven cents shall be reimbursed to the city from assessed benefits from sewers hereafter to be built connecting with said canal sewer, and that the Controller be and he is instructed to charge said amount to an account to be opened for that purpose, and notify viewers on all sewers contemplated to connect with the canal sewer; and it shall be the duty of viewers to notified to assess the amount so acquired above and beyond the sum actually necessary to build sewer or sewers connecting with said canal sewer. FINANCE AND TRADE.

OFFICE OF THE PITTSBURGH GAZETTE, FRIDAY, July 3, 1868.

Gold remained steady to-day at 140¾ with a very moderate business, importers are holding back, and remit only where there is no delay possible. Speculators although believing in higher prices for gold do not care to buy yet, the margin being entirely two small to operate. It is expected that the heavy disbursements of the Treasury department next week will depress the market sufficiently to give a decided tone to the market either way. The export of coin for this week have been much smaller than the past week, and any increase in the shipments of oil, cereals or cotton for which the European markets are more favorable at present, would cheapen the rate of exchange considerably.

Government bonds are dull and neglected with but little disposition to buy before the effect of taxing the interest on bonds, on European markets has been ascertained—on the other hand the amount of bonds offering for sale are very limited, and few holders care for occupying present prices so long as money remains easy in New York. Those discriptions of bonds quoted in the European markets remain very firm; also 1881s and ten-forties are well sustaining; the latter are not much in favor.

Stocks are dull and a fraction off, but steady at quotations. Border State bonds are firmer again, less from a desire to invest than to cover short contracts. The wild speculation in these bonds and the recklessness displayed in selling these securities short at about 10 per cent below the highest prices touched exceeds the corners in Erie, Fort Wayne and Prairie de Chien. Express shares are weak and dull, with but a light business.

Mining shares are improving but slowly. Some of our home companies have made some handsome dividends, but no material movement is noticeable; most of them can be bought, but not sold except at a big sacrifice.

Business is rather inactive, but money has been scarce for the last few days.

Closing quotations as received by Ph. R. Mertz, were as follows:

Gold, 140¾; 1881 bonds, 113⅛; 1862 5-20s, 112⅞; 1864 do, 110¼; 1865 do, 111¼; new, 1865 and 1867, 108⅝; Ten Forties, 106⅞; Seven Thirties, 108⅝.

—Closing quotations received by James T. Brady & Co.:

PITTSBURGH METAL MARKET.

OFFICE OF THE PITTSBURGH GAZETTE, FRIDAY, July 3, 1868.

The market has been quiet but firm, nevertheless, and while the sales, in the aggregate, were comparatively small, prices were fully sustained. The supply of desirable brands of forge irons is pretty well reduced, and, as a general thing, dealers are pretty well sold up.

Chicago Cattle Market.

(By Telegraph to the Pittsburgh Gazette.)

CHICAGO, July 3.—Beef Cattle are quiet at $5,50a6,75 for fair to good steers. Hogs are moderately active at $8,12a8,25 for common, $8,30a8,50 for fair to medium, and $8,60a8,80 for good to extra choice.

PITTSBURGH MARKETS.

OFFICE OF THE PITTSBURGH GAZETTE, FRIDAY, July, 3, 1868.

The general markets continue very dull with but little prospect of any immediate improvement. The weather for several days past has been so excessively hot, that people generally are not disposed to exert themselves any in making business, and besides, this always is the dullest time in the year.

BUTTER—Is dull and unchanged; good prime fresh packed 23 to 25c.

EGGS—Cannot fairly be quoted above 20c, notwithstanding the arrivals are rather light.

POTATOES—New Potatoes are scarce, and in good demand at $6 to $6,50 per bbl, as to quality.

CHEESE—Is unchanged at 13c to 14c for Western Reserve and Hamburg; 15 to 16c for Ohio Factory, 18c for Lamburg, and 19 to 20c for Sweitzer.

HAY—Is in fair demand with regular sales from country wagons at $15 to $22, as to quality.

SEEDS—Sale of four car loads Flaxseed reported on private terms. No demand for Clover or Timothy.

GRAIN—There is so little doing in Wheat that it is difficult to quote correctly; prime Red cannot be quoted above $2,25 and White at $2,30; and the arrival of a few car loads would doubtless break the market. Oats appear to be a little firmer though not quotably higher; we continue to quote at 75 to 76c offered, and 78 asked. Corn is unchanged at $1,00 to $1,05, as to quality. Rye, $1,60 for small lots, and $1,65 to $1,70 for round lots—market almost bare.

MILL FEED—Sale of 1 car No. 1 Middlings at $1,90. Bran may be quoted at $1,15 to $1,25 as to quality.

DRIED FRUIT—Is dull and drooping; sales of Peaches (prime halves) at 11 to 11½, and apples at 5¼ to 6¼ as to quality.

LARD OIL—Is unchanged at $1,20 for No. 2, and $1,38 to $1,40 for No. 1.

PIG LEAD—Quoted at 10 to 10¼.

LIME—Lales at $2 per bbl.

FLOUR—The Flour market continues dull and neglected, and while, as yet, there is no quotable change, prices are unmistakeably tending downward. We continue to quote at $9,50 to $10 for fair to medium Spring Wheat; and $10,25 to $10,50 for prime to choice do. Winter Wheat $11 to $11,50, and Fancy brands $14 to $15. Rye Flour $9.

PITTSBURGH PETROLEUM MARKET.

OFFICE OF THE PITTSBUGH GAZETTE, FRIDAY, July 3, 1868.

CRUDE—The market was again very much excited and exceedingly strong today, and, as a consequence, a still further advance has been established. The sales were also large, footing up over fifteen thousand barrels, as follows: 2,500 bbls, all year, buyer's option—resale of contract, difference in cash at 15; 5,000 same delivery, conditions and price; 1200 bbls, on spot, at 14½c; 500, seller's option till 15th July, at 15c; 1,000, spot, at 15c; 200 do at 14c; 1,000 and 700 for July at 14½c; 500 each from July to December at 15c, and 1,000 bbls at Venango city, for immediate delivery, at $5,30. As will be seen from the above, spot oil may be fairly quoted at 15c, which is an advance of fully half a cent compared with yesterday. An Oil City telegram says: Market firm and advancing; on creek, holders asking $5,50 to $5,75; buyers offering $5,25 to $5,30. At this place, sales at $5,60—holders asking $5,75 to $5,80.

REFINED—The market for bonded was also very much excited, and prices have still further advanced. The sales were 500 bbls, first half July at 34; 500 do do, at 34½; 500 last half at 34½; and 2,000, early this morning—same delivery at 34c. At the close holders were asking 35 for July. A Philadelphia telegraph quotes as follows: Spot 33; July, 34; August 34½ and September 35; this dispatch must have been received early in the day as July sold at 34½.

ARRIVALS—The arrivals of oil reported to-day were as follows:

CITY AND SUBURBAN.

THE COURTS.

United States District Court—Judge McCandless.

In the case of the United States vs. the distillery et. al. of Edward Lyon, of Williamsport, and also in the case of the United States vs. twenty-six barrels of whisky et. al., owned by Michael Weaver, of the same place, bonds were filed, and property ordered to be released.

In the case against the steamer Armadillo, condemned and sold by order of Court, in admiralty, Huffman & Duff filed their libel, and were allowed to intervene and prove their claim before the Commissioner of Distribution.

In the case of the United States vs. ales, tubes, stills, et. al., owned by Jno. W. O'Brien et. al., of Eagle Brewery, the Court ordered the money in the registry of the Court to be distributed between Geo. Keyser, the informer, and the United States.

In the bankruptcy branch the following additional final discharges were granted and certificates awarded: Florence Kramer, Pittsburgh; Josiah King, Allegheny, Isaac M. Pennock, Pittsburgh, and John McCracken, Monongahela City.

Petitions for final discharge were filed by John Fanrot, of Susquehanna, county and William Robb, of Allegheny county.

A petition was filed by Mathias Winton, of Prosperity, Washington county, for himself and others, asking that John Porter be declared a bankrupt. The petitioner alleges that Porter is indebted to him nine hundred dollars, and that he has given a judgment to Mathew Houston with a view of giving preference over other creditors, and with a view of delaying or defeating the operations of the law. A rule to show cause was granted and made redeemable on the 13th of July.

Quarter Sessions—Judge Stowe.

The following business was transacted on Friday:

The first case taken up was that of the Commonwealth vs. Wm. Thomas, indicted for obtaining money by false representations. The defendant, it was alleged, visited the house of Rudolph Kahl and there borrowed seven dollars by representing himself as proprietor of a livery stable on Pennsylvania avenue, and that he desired to pay for some "feed" he had purchased. A verdict of guilty was rendered and defendant sentenced to pay a fine of fifty dollars and costs.

L. Burkhardt was tried on an indictment for receiving stolen goods, found upon the oath of Jacques Mahler. The jury returned a verdict of not guilty.

The case of the Commonwealth vs. Wm. Smith, indicted for maintaining a nuisance, was called, but was postponed until Tuesday next. It will be remembered that the defendant secured the passage of an act by the Legislature vacating Spruce alley, in the Ninth ward, with the consent of City Councils and such restrictions as they might impose. Mr. Smith has been occupying the alley since the act was passed, although Councils have not consented to the vacation. The points at issue are of a legal character, and it is probable that a special verdict will be rendered, and that the matter will be speedily adjusted by the Court.

Jacques Mahler, the prosecuting witness in the case of L. Burkhardt, was called up for sentence, having pleaded guilty to the larceny of some wearing apparel from Lillie McDonald on the 21st of April last. Previous to passing sentence Judge Stowe remarked that it seemed the only way to prevent the defendant from getting into trouble was to keep him locked up. He then sentenced him to undergo three years' imprisonment in the Western Penitentiary

Court then adjourned until Monday morning.

MORTGAGES.

Same day ten mortgages were filed.

Pockets Picked.

Yesterday, about one o'clock P. M., officer Mulvaney, while on duty, found two pocket books lying in the metal yard between Grant and Liberty streets, near the Union Depot. One of the pocket books contained a baggage check on the P. C. and C. R. R., No. 220, from New York to Cincinnati, and a certificate of pay from a U. S. A. Paymaster to General W. S. Featherstone. The other contained a receipt to the same person for five dollars, and a pass on the Mississippi Central Railroad as follows: "Pass General Featherstone from depot to depot until further orders," dated June 1st, 1868. These facts would indicate that the pocket books were once the property of General Featherstone, and that that gentleman's pockets had been picked while passing through this city. Perhaps the General was a delegate to the New York Convention and was a passenger on one of the special trains. The property described is at the Mayor's office, and will be delivered to the owner when called for.

Gen. Forrest and Fort Pillow.

The following is from a gallant officer now serving in the United States army:

JUNE 25, 1868.

EDITORS MEMPHIS POST:—The rebel General Jordan, formerly chief-of-staff to Longstreet, in his life of N. B Forrest, the butcher of Fort Pillow, endeavors, in a very scientific and plausible style, to palliate the conduct of Forrest at that affair. But all the writings of rebel generals and chief-of-staff combined will never wipe out or efface from the minds of the Northern people and the soldiers that comprised the Union army the horrible remembrance of that most cold-blooded, wholesale slaughter; and it is worse than useless to endeavor to exculpate the brutality and barbarity perpetrated. Like the English blowing the sepoys from the mouths of their cannon, the story of "Fort Pillow" will be handed down to future generations, and our children's children will look with loathing and disgust upon the name of N. B. Forrest, the rebel, who allowed defenceless and wounded men to be massacred, after they were overpowered, by the hundred.

What is to be thought of those who, here in the South, call themselves Democrats, that select N. B. Forrest as a delegate to a convention to nominate a President of the loyal States of this Union? How think you the soldiers of the Union will take it? I speak of the genuine Democratic soldiers, whose love of country exceeded their love of party in 1861. Think you that these men will feel flattered at the appointment of so bitter and active a rebel as this man Forrest to their National Convention as a delegate? If such be the case it is a farce to call the coming gathering on the 4th of July anything but a rebel convention, and there are but two men in the country, who would obtain a unanimous nomination and support, viz.; Jeff Davis and Robert E. Lee.

The so-called Democratic party must be hard up for men to send to their convention when they select such as N. B. Forrest, and his name alone will add votes to the Republicans.

Pigeon English.

A writer, in commenting upon the manner in which the Chinese speak English, says: Pigeon English is a most amusing dialect—a sort of Celestial baby-talk; and one would think that in the time a Chinaman must take to learn it he might as well be learning good English. But all foreigners in Hong Kong must acquire it if they wish to be understood. If a lady would ask the price of an article in a shop, she must inquire "how muchee dollar?" If you would inquire for a gentleman at his house, it is necessary to say to the servant, "Yo massy him ben?" At a dinner party given by an English merchant in Canton, the host sending an invitation to one of his guests to take a glass of sherry with him, the message, as delivered by the Chinese waiter, because: Hi yah!—number one massy topside (at the head of the table) wantee catchee wine lang, he." "Namber one" with them, as with us, expresses the superlative degree of comparison. When taught by the missionaries of the one God, it is very difficult for them to seize the idea that they are required to exclude entirely from their faith the multitude of deities whom they worship, but, supposing that Jehovah claims precedence over the rest, they call him "Number one Josh." A missionary mother was one day somewhat shocked to hear her little girl exclaim to her Pagan nurse, during a heavy thunder storm, "Number one Josh man up topside he talkee much big!"

COFFEE.—Coffee is a berry used in the manufacture of a delightful beverage and fraudulent naturalization papers. As a drink it is pleasant, hearty and stimulating to the human system. As an ingredient in coloring papers, it is noxious, poisonous and deadly in its effects on the body politic. Its use as a beverage is world wide, and for centuries Jews, Gentiles and Christians have sipped their fragrant coffee. Its application to the arts and sciences as a coloring matter was recently discovered in Phillipsburg by some down trodden exiles from Erin. From its success in changing the political complexion of Pennsylvania last fall, it is expected that the use of coffee will be adopted by Democratic State committees throughout the Union this fall, who will be furnished with directions for its preparation by Mr. Chairman Wallace.

MR. EDWIN NORRIS has just published the first volume of a "Dictionary of the Cuneiform Character and Language of Assyria," a work, it is said, which no other man in Europe, unless possibly Sir Henry Rawlinson, could have undertaken. The number of scholars capable of using it is probably under fifty; so that it could never be expected to pay the cost of its publication, particularly as fonts of 300 or 400 new type had to be made to represent the arrow-headed characters. In fact, every copy of the Dictionaay cost more than double the price at which it is retailed, and the work will fill four or five volumes. The language lexicographized in the volume now published is the Semitic tongue of the Assyrian records, incised slabs of Ninevah, etc., of which most ample remains exist, and it also applies in a measure to the Babylonian language, but with dialect variations.

A CURIOUS CANE.—Alexander Dumas, the inexhaustible French novelist, has a very curious cane. This cane, which M. Dumas uses constantly, is made of paper. It is not blank paper, however, but contains in fine type the entire novel of the "Three Musketeers," M. Dumas's greatest work. The paper on which the novel is printed, is rolled tightly, gummed, and hardened by some process into a strong and shapely cane, with a gold head, upon unscrewing which the first few lines of the story are distinctly visible. This singular cane was manufactured by an enthusiastic provincial admirer of M. Dumas, and sent to the great romancist a few months ago.

Most Bitters of the present day that are loudly puffed through the newspapers as having great curative properties are vile compounds and base impositions, containing no medicinal virtues whatever, and are really very poor whisky beverages, and, instead of acting as a stimulant and tonic, have a tendency to weaken the stomach by entirely destroying the coating. The public should therefore be very cautious and purchase none but Roback's Stomach Bitters, which have stood the test as a remedial agent for many years, and are really as their name indicates, a stomach bitters and not a beverage. They combine the properties of the best tonic and a stimulant—a laxative, an efficient and anti-bilious agent and the best stomachic known to the world, and when taken in conjunction with Roback's Blood Pills, are the safest and surest preventive against all bilious derangements, thoroughly regulating the whole system and giving tone to the digestive organs.

They are highly recommended as an invigorating tonic to mothers while nursing, increasing the flow of milk, and for convalescents, to restore the prostration which always follows long-continued sickness, they are unsurpassed. No household should consider themselves safe from the ordinary maladies without these invaluable medicines. They can be obtained of any druggist. TTSF

CITY AND SUBURBAN.

Daily Prayer Meeting—From 12 M. to 12:30 o'clock at the Methodist Church, Fifth street, next door to GAZETTE office.

Alleged Larceny.—Henry Householder, charged with the larceny of a caddy of tobacco, was arrested and after a hearing yesterday, was committed for trial.

Assault and Battery.—Carolina Hetzel made information yesterday before Alderman McMasters against George Hetzel for assault and battery. The parties reside at Saw Mill Run. A warrant was issued.

Surety of the Peace.—Elizabeth West made information yesterday before Justice Ammon against Catharine Gilchrist for surety of the peace. She alleges that Catharine threatened to cut her with a carving knife. A warrant was issued.

Alleged Larceny.—A. Lytle charges Ella Morrow, of the Third ward, with the larceny of a couple of shawls, a quilt, dress and other things, amounting in value to forty dollars. A warrant was issued by Alderman McMasters yesterday.

Committed.—Mayor Blackmore yesterday morning committed six persons to jail for twenty-four hours each, for disorderly conduct. Four of the victims were "nymphs," three of whom were arrested in the Fifth ward and the other in the First ward.

Disorderly House.—Peter Harrington made information before the Mayor, yesterday, charging Ann Markles with keeking a disorderly house. The accused occupies a house on Fourth street in the First ward. A warrant was issued for her arrest.

Slight Fire.—The alarm of fire struck from box 23, Allegheny Fire Alarm, yesterday morning about 11 o'clock, was caused by the burning out of a chimney in the Seventh ward. No damage was done, beyond the burning of a small hole in the roof.

Hit with a Poker.—Alexander Neele alleges before Alderman Mullen that on Wednesday last Isabella McCullough struck him a severe blow on the arm with a poker. She was arrested and gave bail in the sum of five hundred dollars for her appearance at Court.

Wife Beater.—Elizabeth West made information before Justice Ammon, yesterday, charging her husband, David West, with assault and battery. She alleges that he struck her with his fist and knocked her down. A warrant was issued for the arrest of David.

Broke Down.—Yesterday, as the truck of the Columbia Hook and Ladder Company, of Allegheny, was going along Ohio street in response to the alarm struck from box 23, it came in contact with a water pave with such force as to break the forward axle and tear off one of the wheels.

Alleged Gambling House.—James Meely, proprietor of the Union Hotel, Second ward, Allegheny, was before Alderman Mullen yesterday, charged with keeping a gambling house, on oath of Alexander Meely. He was held to bail in the sum of one thousand dollars for his appearance at Court.

Noisy.—Mayor Drum yesterday arrested an individual named Osborne, residing in the Second ward, and fined him five dollars for disorderly conduct. It seems that Osborne took a few too many drinks the evening before, in consequence of which he became very noisy and annoyed his neighbors considerably.

Tapped a Till.—Officer Green, of Mayor Drum's police, arrested a boy named O'Donnell, yesterday morning, charged with stealing seven or eight dollars from the till of Hallinger's eating saloon in the Market House. The lad had three dollars in his possession when arrested, and he was held for a further hearing.

Forestalling the Market.—Joseph Ryan, a huckster in the Pittsburgh market, was fined twenty dollars and costs, yesterday, by Alderman Humbert, for forestalling the market. It seems he bought some cherries and afterwards offered them for sale in the market during market hours, a direct violation of a city ordinance.

A Family Quarrel.—Peter McMaughty and his brother-in-law, David Cozzens, had a a quarrel about the possession of a child which was somewhat summarily closed by Cozzens knocking his relative down. A warrant was issued by Alderman Mullen for the arrest of the pugnacious party on an information for assault and battery.

Serious Accident.—A lady named Rankins, aged about fifty years, residing on Craig street, Allegheny, was very seriously injured yesterday morning by falling down a flight of stairs. Medical aid was immediately summoned, but at last account she was lying in an insensible condition, and but little hopes were entertained of her recovery.

False Pretense.—Jacob Mogle made information before Justice Ammon, of East Birmingham, against Jacob Miller, charging him with obtaining goods under false pretense. The prosecutor is proprietor of a grocery in East Birmingham, and he alleges that the accused, by false and fraudulent representations, obtained a quantity of groceries. A warrant was issued.

Robbing a Till.—Joseph Ellis, a negro, was arrested yesterday at the Tremont House, in the Diamond, by officer Demler, while in the act of robbing the money drawer, Louis Lidderer, the proprietor of the house, made information before the Mayor, charging Ellis with larceny, and after a hearing he was committed to jail in default of bail for his appearance at Court.

Insane Man Arrested.—A telegram was received at the Mayor's office yeeterday from Solomon Beffer, Canton, Ohio, announcing that his father George Beffer, who is partially deranged, had taken the cars for this city, and would arrive at half past three o'clock, and requesting his apprehension. Officer Irwin visited the depot at the time stated and arrested him. He is now in the lockup awaiting the arrival of his son.

Brick vs. Head.—Peter Hammill must have thought Patrick Eagan's skull a thick one, or else he was very reckless of consequences, when he threw the brick which Patrick alleges came in contact with his head, causing a rather unpleasant feeling around that important part of his person. Notwithstanding this, Patrick was enabled to make an information for aggravated assault and battery against Peter, who will have a hearing before Alderman McMasters on Tuesday evening next.

Serious Accident.—A little boy about twelve years of age, whose name we could not ascertain, was kicked by a horse and seriously injured yesterday evening. The horse was hitched to a post in front of Thomas Hare & Co.'s store, Wood street, and the boy, it appears, struck him with a whip, causing him to kick, striking the little fellow on the head, knocking him down. He was picked up and removed to the residence of his parents, where he received proper medical attention.

Improvement.—Justice Ammon, of East Birmingham, has, like many other enterprising men, become imbued with a spirit of improvement, which has manifested itself to a great degree in the repairs he has made in his office. Both rooms have been nicely papered with oak paper and varnished, and alterations have been made in the front door, over which is a fine ground glass transom with the Justice's sign neatly engraved upon it, and the whole establishment presents a new and tasty appearance.

Fierce Threatening.—James McWilliams was brought before Alderman Mullen yesterday on an information for surety of the peace, preferred against him by Anthony Kenast. It is alleged that the defendant endeavored to break in the door of the prosecutor's house and threatened to burn the house down. Arrested and held in $300 bail for his appearance at Court.

Probable Homicide.—On Friday evening June 26th, a Mr. Hull put a man named Weinberger out of a saloon at New Florence, Westmoreland county, when the latter picked up a stone and knocked Hull down, and then raising another large stone he dashed it on Hull's head, crushing his scull and causing death on Wednesday last, Hull was the father of the man who is at present serving a term in the Penitentiary for the murder of Mr. Parker, a conductor on the Pennsylvania railroad.

Alleged Perjury.—Leopold Veterle made information against Wentzell Lerach, yesterday, before Alderman McMasters, charging him with perjury. The prosecutor alleges that in a case of surety of the peace, pending before the Court of Quarter Sessions, on the 13th of June last, that the neighbors of Veterle "threw stones and bricks at him because he was such a mean man and made such a noise and disturbance in the neighborhood." A hearing has been appointed for Thursday next at ten o'clock.

Coroner's Inquest.—Coroner Clawson held an inquest on the body of Mr. M. J. Hall, who died yesterday morning from the effect of injuries received by being thrown from a buggy at the corner of Pennsylvania avenue and Gist street Thursday evening, an account of which we published in yesterday's GAZETTE. A verdict of accidental death was rendered. Mr. Hall resided on Sandusky street, Allegheny. He was about forty-five years of age, and a member of the firm of Thompson & Hall, proprietors of a planing mill in Allegheny.

About Hogs.—Alderman Mullen had a hoggish case before him yesterday. It seems according to the information that Henry Gimber sold a couple of porkers to John Gills for thirty-five dollars on credit, Daniel Ellwanger going security for the payment of the money. Gill it is alleged afterwards sold them for forty dollars, and paid twenty dollars to Gimber, leaving fifteen dollars still due, which he has refused and still refuses to pay. Gill and his security were arrested on a charge of fraud and held for court in the sum of five hundred dollars.

Atlantics of New York.—This celebrated club, which has for so many years carried the championship of the United States, will be in our city on Wednesday next, and play the Allegheny Club at Union Park. Their scores against Western clubs have been marvelous, and as they and the Athletics are rivals, and the Alleghenies having made made the best average score against the latter club in their trip, we expect to see a magnificent display of our national game between the two clubs. Seats will be exclusively reserved for ladies and those accompanying them.

Cut his Board Bill.—Philip O'Donnell, a coal miner, at Six Mile Ferry, boarded with Dora Robinson, a widow, who is striving to make an honest living for herself and family of small children by keeping a boarding house. O'Donnell, she alleges, through false representations, was allowed to run a board bill of over $40, which instead of paying as an honest man would have done, he refused to pay and left the premises. Mrs. Robinson made information before Justice Ammon, of East Birmingham, charging O'Donnell with obtaining board under false pretense. A warrant was issued for his arrest.

Educational.

The examination of the pupils of St. Paul's Select Day School, in Ashland Hall, William O'Dougherty, teacher, and Rev. Father Kerr, Superintendent, took place yesterday. From the creditable manner in which the youths acquitted themselves, we infer that both gentlemen in charge of the school are fully equal to the task imposed upon them. Interspersed with the exercises were a couple of comic songs, "Larry Doolin" and the "Quack Doctor," the former by Jno. Maloney and the latter L. J. McCaffrey, both of which were well rendered and highly applauded. The school was dismissed until the first of September next, by Father Kerr.

Odd Fellows' Picnic.

Of the many picnics to be held in the vicinity of the city to-day, we know of none which promises a more agreeable and pleasant day's enjoyment than that of Mechanics' Lodge, No. 9, I. O. O. F., at Moyce's Grove, near Sharpsburg. The managers have been untiring in their efforts to make the affair a success, and we have no hesitancy in recommending our readers to attend it. An excellent band of music has been engaged for the occasion, and the grove is one of the most delightful around the city. Trains will leave the West Penna. Railroad Depot, Federal street, Allegheny, every hour. The services of Lieut. Seth Wilmot and officer McKelvy, of the Mayor's police, have been engaged to preserve order. With such men as Alderman Humbert, James Purnell, Will. A. M'Roberts, Samuel England, and Alex. Hunter, as managers, the affair cannot fail to succeed.

Man Drowned—Coroner's Inquest.

Coroner Clawson was called upon yesterday to hold an inquest on the body of James Hetherington, who was drowned in Turtle Creek, near the Monongahela river, about ten o'clock Thursday night. It appears that Hetherington and his brother William, both of whom resided on the opposite side of the river from Braddock's Fields, crossed the river and went up Turtle Creek in a skiff to Myers' tavern, where they took several drinks. Between ten and eleven o'clock they started home, and had proceeded but a short distance after getting in the skiff, when James, who was very much intoxicated, fell into the water and was drowned. His brother endeavored to rescue him but failed. He returned to the tavern and informed Myers and others what had happened, when they went with him and recovered the body. The water was about ten feet deep where he was drowned. The deceased was forty-three years of age and leaves a widow with four small children.

Runaway.

The entire Third ward was thrown into a state of excitement yesterday by a runaway which occurred on Tunnel street about ten o'clock. A horse attached to a light wagon took fright near the corner of Tunnell and Webster streets and dashed along Tunnell to Wylie street at a break neck pace, and in turning the corner at Wylie the wagon collided with a milk cart, turning it over and spilling the milk in the street and breaking an axle. The collision appeared to alarm the frightened horse to a still greater extent, and he continued in his wild career at an increased rate of speed up Wylie street some distance, when the vehicle to which he was attached came in contact with a soap wagon, turning it over and spilling the soap man and his stock in the street. By this time the excitement was raging at its heighth, and the street and sidewalks were crowded with men, women and children, (about a thousand of the latter,) and the horse becoming slightly entangled in the wreck of the soap wagon was caught, after which the excited crowd dispersed and retired to their respective places of abode, and the "Bull Run" district once more subsided into its usual quiet and peacefulness.

Sad Death of a Father and Son While Bathing.

Yesterday this community had gloom cast over it by the painful announcement that Mr. John S. Davison, of the firm of Mair & Davison, this city, and his son, an interesting lad of twelve summers, had been drowned in the Beaver river, a tributary of the Ohio, at Rochester, Penna It appears that the deceased, who had temporarily taken up a summer residence with his family at Rochester, had taken his son to bathe in the river and to give him instructions in the art of swimming, in which Mr. Davison was an adept. The boy got beyond his depth, and, it is supposed, took cramps, sinking beneath the surface under a raft. The father dived after him, and on coming up under the raft sustained such injury on the head as must have rendered him insensible, and he was drowned. The body of the son was recovered about eleven o'clock on Thursday night, and that of the father about nine o'clock Friday morning, a short distance below the rafts. The forehead of Mr. Davison bore a deep scar, supposed to have been received in striking the raft. The bodies were brought to this city, and will be buried from their residence, Bellfield, near Oakland, Sunday afternoon, at one o'clock. Carriages will leave Fairman & Samson's, corner of Seventh and Smithfield streets, for the house, at twelve o'clock, noon.

Mr. Davison was one of our most worthy and esteemed business men. He had long been connected with the Bellfield Union Church and Sabbath School, and much of the credit of the elegant new church erected at Bellfield and about to be dedicated to the worship of God, is due him, as he contributed largely and aided materially in its erection. On the very night of his painful death he was reëlected Superintendent of the Bellfield Sabbath School, a position which he had long held with credit and honor. Kind, genial and friendly, surrounded by a whole host of friends and acquaintanances, he has been called to eternity and will be sincerely mourned as a pious and good christian departed.

Amusements.

THE MINSTRELS.—Carncross & Dixey's Minstrel troupe, which has for the past week been playing to large and fashionable audiences at the Opera House, will give a grand Fourth of July Matinee this afternoon, and an entertainment this evening. The troupe is a most excellent one, and we are gratified to see it so liberally patronized. The manager, owing to the excellent business, has concluded to remain for one week longer.

THE MUSEUM.—Major Burnell will have his museum open as usual to-day, and we would advise all in search of a pleasant entertainment for an hour or two to visit Franklin Hall.

MCFARLAND'S GROVE.—The pic-nic of the St. Vincent de Paul Society, at McFarland's Grove, will be a splendid affair. The Committee of Arrangements is composed of some of the leading men of our city, and they have been energetic in the performance of the duty assigned them. The arrangements have been completed, and the Committee have been exceedingly liberal, so that it cannot fail to be a success.

BEAVER FALLS.—The grand Social Picnic at Patterson's Grove, Beaver Falls, given to-day, under the auspices of the ladies of St. Joseph's congregation, New Brighton, will be one of the most pleasant and enjoyable entertainments of the day. The grove is one of the most delightful in the country, and is beautifully located. The company will be select, and everything has been arranged with a view to the comfort and enjoyment of those who attend it. A special train will leave Beaver Falls for Allegheny City at 6:15 P. M.

EAGLE PICNIC.—The picnic of the Eagle Fire Company, to be held at McKee's Rocks to-day, will be one ol the most delightful affairs of the season. The Committee have been unusually liberal in their arrangements, and have left nothing undone calculated to add to the enjoyment of the occasion. The steamer "Ellena May" will make hourly trips from the Monongahela wharf, stopping at Manchester going and returning, and the accommodation trains on the Pittsburgh, Fort Wayne and Chicago Railroad will stop at Wood's Run, opposite the picnic grounds.

LAFAYETTE HALL.—The ladies fair and festival for the benefit of the Ross street M. E. Church at this Hall will be an attractive place to-night. Great preparations have been made for the occasion, and the arrangements for the entertainment and enjoyment of visitors are all that could be desired. The object is a worthy one and deserves a liberal patronage.

GLENWOOD GROVE.—A grand celebration will be held at this delightful grove to-day in aid of the Frankstown School. Liberal arrangements have been made and visitors cannot fail to enjoy themselves. Trains will leave the Pittsburgh and Connellsville Depot every hour.

G. A. R.—Officers Elected.

At a meeting of Post 35, of the Grand Army of the Republic, held in their Hall, on Lacock street, Allegheny, Thursday evening, the following officers were elected for the ensuing term:

Post Commandant—John C. Semple.
Senior Vice—Josiah Copley.
Junior Vice—Wm. F. Harvey.
Adjutant—Hiram P. Callow.
Quartermaster—Chas. Strauss.
Surgeon—Wm. B. Hezlep.
Chaplain—Frank E. Tyler.
Officer of the Day—Jesse D. Johnston.
Officer of the Guard—W. M. Sayers.

Delegates to the Semi-Annual Convention, to be held at Pottsville, Wednesday, 8th inst.—John G. Brown, Augustus Beckert, C. A. Miller, Joseph F. Neely, Wm. J. McGratty and J. R. Oxley.

Alleged Defaulter.

John Laughrain, a road contractor, yesterday made information at the Mayor's office, charging John Young, Road Commissioner of the Peebles district with larceny by bailee. It appears that Mr. Young had in his possession about $300 of the city funds which was to be appropriated to the improvement of roads in his district. A contract was let to the prosecutor, and a few days since he called at Mr. Young's residence to draw some money, but failed to find that gentleman at home. He alleges that Young has decamped with the funds of the city with intent to cheat and defraud. A warrant was issued.

Special Announcement—Owing to the great rush of patrons at the Masonic Hall Auction Rooms last night for the purchase of bargains in the dry and straw goods lines, at the great sacrifice sale, many of whom were turned away without being waited upon, Messrs. Smithson, Vanhook and McClelland have resolved to keep their rooms open for the accommodation of all up till noon to-day. Those desiring to procure great bargains should not fail to call.

Innocence.—Only Seffens, an infant of nine months, was found playing with a snake, a few days ago. His mother was engaged in the garden, and left the child sitting on a border near by. Her excitement at beholding the sight was such that she could give no satisfactory account as to the size or nature of the reptile, even after having shaken it out of the hands of the child.—Parkersburg Times.

Fatal Accident.—The Waynesburg Messenger has the following: Some days ago, Mrs. A. B. Miller, of this place, in coming down stairs with a child in her arms, tripped and fell headlong, by which the child, aged about fifteen months, was so badly injured, that it died on Sunday morning last. Mrs. Miller was also pretty severely, though it is hoped not dangerously injured.

Galvanized Lightning Rod.

A new device to deceive the ignorant has lately been introduced, consisting of an iron rod galvanized with zinc. This has been pushed into all parts of the country, and as it has a neat and substantial appearance, many persons look no further. Scientific investigation proves zinc to be little superior to iron as a conductor, and experience proves this rod to be absolutely dangerous. In Rochester, Pa., in Wheeling, W. Va., and other places, houses which had this galvanized rod put up on them this summer were struck and badly damaged. The building at Wheeling was almost ruined. We urge the public to buy only the Munson Copper Rod, which has stood the test of a dozen years, and is constantly growing in favor.

The Original "Diamond Front" Grocery of McBride & George, No. 164 Federal street, Allegheny, continues to receive a full share of the public patronage. The proprietors have ever made it a rule to keep constantly on hand a large and judiciously selected stock of groceries and provisions, and their patrons can at all times depend on procuring the very best the market affords at most reasonable prices. No where else in the two cities can be found a larger or fresher stock of pure and unadulterated teas, coffees, spices, general groceries and provisions. Dealers who buy to sell again, as well as retail patrons, will consult their own interests by favoring the original Diamond Front Grocery with a purchasing visit.

Sale of Real Estate.—A very attractive sale of real estate took place on the Perrysville road on Tuesday afternoon last. A five acre plot near the Observatory had been divided into fifty-six building lots by Mr. Dihm, of No. 107 Wood street. The prices realized were $400 to $450 for lots twenty-five by one hundred and fifty to twenty-five by one hundred and seventy feet. Fifteen lots remain, which may be purchased at private sale of the owner, or at the office of the auctioneer, Mr. A. Leggate, No. 159 Federal street, Allegheny.

Articles for the Toilet.—Joseph Burnett & Co., the distinguished Chemists of Boston, are the manufacturers of several highly celebrated and excellent articles for the toilet, viz: Cocoaine for the hair, Kalliston for the skin, Florimel, an exquisite handkerchief perfume and Oriental Tooth Wash. Burnett & Co. are also the manufacturers of Extracts of fruits and flowers for flavoring jellies, preserves, &c., which have great celebrity for their purity and strength. They are very popular in this city.—Montreal Herald. 1TsT

At Col. J. D. Egans' well known literary and book depot, Sixth street, near Smithfield street, scholars and others will find a very fine assortment of rare volumes as well as the current publications of the day. Full lines of legal, business and ladies' stationery are kept constantly on hand, while all the leading magazines, periodicals and literary newspapers will be found on the counter. Readers desiring anything in this line are recommended to favor Col. Egan with a purchasing visit.

The Strawberry season is rapidly drawing to a close and our readers who have not yet visited the first class rooms of P. H. McGuire, No. 105 Fifth street, to partake of the delicious luxury served with tempting ice cream, should at once do so. No where else in the city will parties receive more attention and courteous treatment. Ladies can visit this saloon for ice cream, strawberries, luncheon or meals unaccompanied by gentlemen.

Pumps and Gas Fixtures.—Mr. T. T. Ewens, plumbler, gas and steam fitter, at No. 165 Wood street, has on hand at his establishment an extensive assortment of pumps of the most improved patterns, suitable for the country trade, and the largest and best assorted stock of gas fixtures to be found in the city. We cheerfully commend both him and his establishment to our readers.

Gas and Steam Fitting.—We take pleasure in calling the attention of our readers to the establishment of Mr. Thos. T. Ewens, 165 Wood street, near Sixth. Mr. Ewens is engaged in the ptumbing, gas and steam fitting business, and being a practical mechanic superintends all work entrusted to the establishment. Special attention given to work in the country.

The word Continental is a very familiar one, and always reminds one of knee breeches and surtouts, unless it is coupled with saloon, in which case the smiling face of Holtzheimer and his well-laden tables loom up in the imagination of all who have an appreciation of the good things to be found at the Continental saloon, Fifth street, next door to the Postoffice.

Holtzheimer's Continental Saloon, for ladies and gentlemen, is the resort of epicures. His tables are always filled with the luxuries of the season, and a competent corps of cooks and attendants are always on hand who take pride and pleasure in waiting on customers. The Continental is one door below the Postoffice on Fifth street.

Holtzheimer is proprietor of the Continental Dining Saloon, Fifth street, next door to the Postoffice. It is one of the most popular establishments of its character in the city, and receives a full share of public patronage. The rooms are always clean, cool and comfortable, and the tables supplied with the best the market affords.

Mr. P. H. M'Guire's elegantly furnished and handsomely situated private dining rooms should be generally known by those of our citizens who take meals during business hours in the city. Clean tables, good attendance and all the substantials and delicacies of the market can at all times be depended upon.

Perhaps there is not so much adulteration in the brandies, gins, rums and whiskies dealt in this progressive day as in what is foisted upon the market by irresponsible dealers as pure China and Japan teas. Housekeepers cannot be too careful as to where they purchase. The old reliable tea mart, No. 20 Fifth street, has long sustained a high reputation for the purity and flavor of the teas sold there, and everybody can defend on receiving just what they desire, pure, unadulterated, fine flavored fresh teas at very reasonable prices. One trial is all that is asked to secure your patronage, as satisfaction is guaranteed and must follow.

The Continental.—Holtzheimer's Continental Saloon, Fifth street, one door west of the Postoffice, is one of the best dining saloons in the city. Mr. H. has an extensive experience as a caterer, and gives the matter his entire attention, and the result is that his extensive and comfortable rooms are filled with customers at all times.

The best qualities of teas, coffees, spices, dried fruit and groceries will be found at Robinson's Tea Mart, No. 20 Fifth street, at reasonable prices. "Quick sales and small pofits" is the motto at this establishment, which, perhaps, accounts for the large share of patronage its receives.

Difficulty between the Mexican Authorities and a British Steamer.

[By Telegraph to the Pittsburgh Gazette.]

SAN FRANCISCO, July 2.—Mazatlan advices of June 22d say a serious difficulty is reported between the commander of the British war steamer Chanticleer and the Mexican authorities. The Chanticleer, while off Alta, got into a dangerous position, and fired signal guns for assistance. A pilot went out and released the ship from danger, when the Captain refused to pay him for the services rendered, and went to Mazatlan. The Collector of the port of Mazatlan found one of the officers of the Chanticleer conveying specie aboard to avoid port duty, had him arrested, searched, and found gold on his person. The Captain came ashore in great excitement and declared the vessel and himself insulted by being searched by his subordinates. Some words followed, which ended by the Collector ordering the Captain to be searched under the impression that he also was implicated in smuggling. The Captain then went aboard the Chanticleer and notified the inhabitants by a proclamation that he was about to bombard Mazatlan for the insult to the English. Numerous notes passed between Commander Bridge, General Corona and the civil authorities, the American Consul Session acting as mediator. Ultimately Bridge modified his proclamation so as to place the port of Mazatlan under the blockade so far as Mexican vessels are concerned not interfering with American or other foreign vessels until he had received orders from the Admiral commanding his station. The action of Gen. Corona and the Mexican authorities is generally approved by the foreign residents.

The United States war steamer Swanee left Acapulco for Mazatlan, to protect the American interests. The United States steamer Resaca arrived at the port of La Pez, June 21st.

Bridge first demanded that the officer who searched his subordinate and seized his money should be sent aboard the Chanticleer, to be dealt with as he saw fit. Corona replied that sooner than submit to such an outrage he would allow the city to be bombarded, telling him in indignant language that if he had retaliation to make he would make it in a manner customary to civilized nations, through the proper channel.

Explosion of a Powder Mill.

[By Telegraph to the Pittsburgh Gazette.]

HARTFORD, Conn., July 3.—A powder mill in Scitico, Connecticut, belonging to the Hazardville Powder Company, exploded on Thursday morning, burning the only two persons in the mill in a shocking manner, so bad that their lives are despaired of. Michael Bailey, a workman for many years about the mill, and Francis Richardson, Superintendent of the Scitico Department, are the sufferers. It is but three weeks since a mill on the same site was blown up in the night, but no person was near to be injured.

—Henry Schroeder shot Wm. Jericho, a constable, in a saloon in Memphis, Friday afternoon, killing him almost instantly.
